23 Men Bail Out Of Huge Bomber Over N. Atlantic

Vast Search Pushed; 2 Bodies Recovered

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Four dazed, half-frozen U. S. airmen and the bodies of two others were recovered from rubber rafts in the stormy North Atlantic tonight, 16 hours after they had bailed out of a 10-engine RB36 reconnaissance bomber that crashed in flames.

A British freighter, the 7,636-ton Manchester Shipper, took all aboard.

The Shannon Airport radio control center in Ireland reported it intercepted a message from the Manchester Shipper saying it had five survivors aboard. This figure was not confirmed immediately by the U. S. Air Force.

The plane was carrying 23 men to Britain from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., on a training mission when it was stricken before dawn. Seventeen remained unaccounted for.

Vast Search Pressed

A vast international air-sea armada raced through mounting seas to reach other possible survivors. The search centered 477 miles west of Shannon, Ireland, where American search planes earlier reported sighting a raft with five men aboard, four of them "waving like mad."

The search, one of the greatest in the Atlantic's history, went on in the wind and rain-torn darkness. Near gales whipped waves high as a house.

The Manchester Shipper, a veteran of other daring sea rescues, was the first of scores of ships from more than six nations to reach the crash area.

She radioed that one of the survivors was in fairly good condition, although suffering from exposure. A second was suffering from shock and a damaged arm and a third airman was reported "badly shocked."

En Route To England

The U. S. Air Force said no names could be released yet. Maj. Arthur P. Beam, 30, was in command of the flight. The bomber was on the way to Lakenheath Air Base, England, for 30 days training.

It radioed at 3:36 a.m. that two of its five engines on the right side were afire.

Later messages said all five right-side engines were out and the plane losing altitude rapidly. At 4:40 a.m. Keflavik Airfield in Iceland picked up an SOS. The only words it could hear were "bailing out."

Sidelight On "Big Switch" Day

As "Operation Big Switch" brought freedom for prisoners of war in Korea, the body of Sgt. Lawrence Cumbo reaches Chicago's LaSalle Street station. The flag-draped casket is clutched by a stepbrother, Joe Valenza, as a brother, Sam Cumbo, tries to steady an aunt, Mrs. Mary Schialabba. This emotional scene was photographed by Edward De Luga of the Chicago Daily News.

Pro-French Sheik Slain

TUNIS, Tunisia, Aug. 5 (AP) — A band of 19 terrorists shot and killed another pro-French sheik today. Police launched a manhunt for the killers in the Gafsa area.

Baltimore Mayor's Son Accused In Rape Case

Charged With Assaulting Girl, 13

BALTIMORE, Aug. 6 (AP) — Franklin Delano Roosevelt D'Alesandro, 20-year-old son of Baltimore's mayor, was charged today with raping a 13-year-old girl.

The girl and an 11-year-old cousin had told police they were kept in a West Preston Street apartment from July 20 to July 28 by a gang of young men who repeatedly assaulted them.

D'Alesandro, whose father returned just today after a 70-day tour of Europe, was put in a police lineup this evening. He was charged half an hour later and released on $10,000 bail.

Three other young men previously had been indicted in the case. One of them, Armand L. Coriddi, 23, was arrested less than an hour after D'Alesandro's release. The other two, George Baccala, 24, and Philip Sudano, 22, were arraigned Monday and released on $10,000 bail.

The younger D'Alesandro was released just 20 minutes before his father, Thomas D'Alesandro Jr., arrived at a welcome home banquet.

"I hope that the oldest and most respected law in our country, that a man is innocent until proved guilty, holds good for a mayor's son as well as anyone else," the Democratic mayor said at the banquet.

The accused D'Alesandro was born March 7, 1933—three days after the inauguration of the late President Roosevelt for whom he was named.

The D'Alesandros have five other children, four boys and a girl.

Mayor D'Alesandro, serving his second term and mentioned as a likely candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Maryland next year, arrived in New York yesterday.

While he was away his home was burglarized, his maids reported receiving threatening telephone calls, and one of his city commissions was being investigated by a grand jury.

The grand jury is looking into practices of the Off-Street Parking Commission which finances private construction of garages. Among the records subpoenaed are those of Dominic Piracci, contractor for 10 of the garages. Piracci is a close friend of Mayor D'Alesandro and his daughter is married to one of the mayor's sons.

The case in which the mayor's son is charged with "carnally knowing and abusing" first came to light Monday when two young men were arraigned on rape and perversion charges involving the young girl cousins.

It was testified the two girls went for a walk July 20 and disappeared. Their families reported them missing.

A week later, one of the girls came home and said the two of them had been held for a week in the apartment.

W. Europe Ministers Will Confer Today

BONN, Germany, Aug. 5 (AP) — The foreign ministers of six West European nations convene in Baden Baden tomorrow to review—and possibly approve—the blueprint for a European union and to discuss the whole range of East-West problems.

The ministers of France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and France are to confer three days in the resort city in the Black Forest.

It will be the first foreign ministers conference held on German soil since World War II. Italy, which is undergoing a Cabinet crisis, will be represented by an undersecretary of foreign affairs, Paolo Emio Taviani.

Cost Of Printing Congress Talk Over Million Dollars

WASHINGTON, Aug 5 (AP)—Congressional talk cost the taxpayers more than a million dollars for printing in the session that ended Monday.

The Congressional Record put out a resume today showing just what the nation's lawmakers did and didn't do in the first session of the 83rd Congress.

The resume did not cover the final two days of the session, last Saturday and Monday, but it turned up these statistics for the period from Jan. 3 through July 31:

1. The Senate and House were in session for a total of 1,235 hours during the seven-month stretch.

2. Floor debates and supplementary material inserted in the record filled 16,211 pages of printed matter.

3. There were 302 bills passed by both Houses, 176 public bills and 126 for the benefit of private individuals.

4. Of that total, President Eisenhower vetoed three.

5. The House ran far behind the Senate in the number of hours in session and in the volume of talk.

It costs $84 for the government printing office to publish each page of the Congressional Record, which records all the debate on the floors of both Houses plus the letters, editorials and speeches put into the record by the Congress members.

The senators used 6,479 pages for debate. That cost $544,236. The House talked through only 4,533 pages costing $380,772. In addition, there were 5,199 pages in the appendixes at a cost of $436,716.

The grand total: $1,371,724.

Mass Desertions Hit East German Police And Army

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP) — A new wave of mass desertions hit East Germany's Red Wehrmacht today and thousands of Soviet zone railwaymen started to sabotage the Communist blockade of American food relief.

Twenty armed soldiers and 17 People's Police escaped to West Germany.

Railwaymen in Russian-occupied Brandenburg engaged in wholesale violation of the decree against relief travel to Berlin, allowing 40,000 to slip into the city.

The total of U. S.-financed food packages given away in 10 days reached 1,570,000. There were 125,000 handed out today, about half to zonal residents and the remainder to East Berliners.

Deserters Fed Up

The rush of Brandenburgers evading the Red railway ban nearly equalled the number coming daily before the travel ban was imposed last Saturday night. But in Saxony, Thuringia, Saxony-Anhalt and Mecklenburg, Communist army and police patrols still sealed off most trains from relief applicants.

Bitterly fed up with Communist terror, the deserting soldiers and police turned in their khaki and blue uniforms to Western authorities. They were given civilian dress, and a promise of resettlement in the Bonn republic. They told Allied Intelligence officers of widespread discontent in the East German armed forces, growing daily as they had to carry on with repressive measures against the hungry people.

Women, Children Beaten

"I couldn't stand it any more when women and children with Ami (American) food packages were beaten last weekend," a 20-year-old corporal said.

It was the largest mass flight since June 24, when 46 soldiers and policemen asked for political refuge in a single day, their morale broken by the East German revolt a week earlier. A total of 1,675 troops and 880 police—2,555 in all—have deserted to West Berlin since Jan. 1.

Reds Say Sick POWs Have Minor Ailments

TOKYO, Thursday, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Communist Peiping radio today said all sick and wounded non-Korean prisoners of war were given a medical checkup before their departure for Panmunjom and that "most of them had only minor ailments."

This claim was in sharp contrast to the statement of Col. Fred W. Seymour, head of the Freedom Village hospital, who said 30 men out of the first 60 returned Wednesday had active tuberculosis.

The Communist statement was made in the Red account of the first day of the repatriation of Allied prisoners of war.

Doctors Fear Some Of Sick May Not Live

Stories Are Subdued As Army Soft-Pedals Atrocity Accounts

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, Aug. 6 (AP)—The first 70 Americans came back to freedom yesterday from the long night of Red captivity.

Twenty-one of them were sick, or wounded. Some of these 21 were so far gone with tuberculosis or other diseases doctors fear they yet may die. And after all the drab and weary months of waiting for liberty.

Some wept as the drama of the first exchange of prisoners since the armistice was signed unfolded at Panmunjom and at this tent city.

Some laughed and shouted. Some were too weak even to wave. Some were listless. Some were scared, unaware to the last moment that they were headed for freedom. The Communists did not tell all prisoners they were being exchanged.

Litter Patients Unsmiling

Eight litter patients were brought here by helicopter. None smiled. A hospital corpsman watched sadly and remarked:

"Here it is the happiest day of their lives and they are too sick to appreciate it. It's a shame."

Two litter patients, both prisoners more than two years, wanted to talk. Cpl. Richard M. Davis of Booneville, Ark., said "There's not many men left" of those captured with him.

Sgt. James Davis, Mullins, S. C. told why. He said treatment in Red camps was "pretty tough" and many of his friends starved to death early in 1951.

The stories of the men were subdued for the most part, however. The Army was soft-pedaling stories of Red treatment such as shocked the United States in the sick and wounded exchange last April.

200-Mile Forced March

But it could not soft-pedal Cpl. John L. Dixon of San Jose, Calif. He survived the Bataan death march in The Philippines in World War II only to turn into another after his capture in the bitter winter of 1950.

Dixon and other captives were forced to march 200 miles in a month from Seoul to a prison camp on the Yalu River border with Manchuria.

"Some men died," he said. "North Koreans who guarded us threatened to kill anyone who dropped out of the line of march, so we helped or carried our buddies who had frostbitten feet or who otherwise were unable to walk.

"I remember how one of my buddies died. He fell on the ice while we were crossing a frozen river. A guard began punching him with a rifle ordering him to get up. I came up and felt his pulse. He was dead."

Byrnes Signals Continued Dixie Support Of Ike

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 5 (AP) — South Carolina's Gov. James F. Byrnes signaled continued Southern Democratic support of President Eisenhower with the assertion today that people from the Potomac to the Gulf have "declared their independence" in politics.

Byrnes told a news conference, in what amounted to flat notice that he and other Dixie bolters are in no mood to return to the national Democratic fold, that President Eisenhower's popularity in the South is greater than ever.

Byrnes said flatly that if the next Democratic presidential nominating convention attempts to extract an advance pledge of support for its nominee he personally would not go as a delegate.

Byrnes, one of the discussion leaders at the 45th annual governors conference here, said he is convinced that more and more Southerners are prepared to discard the Democratic label of their grandfathers.

Byrnes spoke at a news conference after the governors had joined in welcoming home 2,313 GIs from Korea.

Ambiguous Soviet Note On Big 4 Talks Studied

ORDERED DEPORTED—New Jersey Gambler Joe Adonis (above) has been ordered deported to Italy, Attorney General Brownell announced yesterday. The deportation order is based on grounds that Adonis lacked a valid passport when he last entered the U. S. seven years ago after a visit to Cuba. (Story at bottom of page)

U. S. Asks Russia Pay For Lost B50

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP) — United States officials began digging into Russia's counter proposal for a Big Four meeting today with the caution of men dismantling a booby trap.

The State Department announced that the Soviet response to a Western bid issued July 15 for a conference on German unification appeared to leave the way open. But privately officials said the Soviet note was so clouded by outside issues—including the potentially explosive issue of Western relations with Red China—that they could not say right away what would be done about it.

The American announcement did make clear that the British and French Foreign Offices would be consulted before a reply is sent to Moscow.

Compensation For Plane Asked

On more familiar ground—a diplomatic exchange over the shooting down of an American bomber by Soviet fighter planes—the United States struck out sharply at Soviet denials of responsibility for the crash of a B50 plane July 29.

The United States demanded compensation for the loss of the plane and the lives of any crewmen lost. Saying the plane was downed 40 miles off Siberia, it refused to accept Soviet claims that no survivors had been picked up by Red vessels.

It noted that a dozen Soviet speed boats were seen in the vicinity and it demanded that the Russians make another inquiry concerning survivors.

New U. S. Note Delivered

A new U. S. note on the aircraft incident was delivered to the Soviet Foreign Office by the American Embassy at Moscow today and released at the State Department here. At the same time the department put out is reaction to the Soviet response on the Big Four German conference.

The two developments illustrated the bitterness of the cold war conflict in which the great powers are still fully involved even while they maneuver suspiciously to see whether agreements on some issues are possible.

Dulles And Rhee Due To Consider Korea Unification

SEOUL, Thursday, Aug. 6 (AP) —Top aides of U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and President Syngman Rhee today were reported nearing agreement on a U. S.-Korea mutual security pact.

SEOUL, Thursday, Aug. 6 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles and President Syngman Rhee expect to tackle the difficult problem of unification for Korea today after a smooth, harmonious first meeting yesterday.

Dulles returns to Rhee's presidential mansion at 10 a.m. (8 p.m. Wednesday, EST).

The talks already were reported to have produced "considerable progress" toward a security treaty between their two nations.

Such a treaty, subject to ratification by the U. S. Senate, could well be agreed upon before Dulles departs Saturday.

First Session Goes Well

Dulles now must take up with the strong-willed South Korean leader the problems of unification of North and South Korea.

This long-sought goal of Rhee's was skipped over in their opening discussions Wednesday which Dulles reported afterward "went very well."

In Wednesday's session, which lasted two hours, Dulles and Rhee were said to have agreed to seek the opening of the Korean peace conference sometime in the first half of October.

They turned over to a special "working committee" of U. S. and South Korean officials the problems of negotiating details of the security pact.

Committee Makes Headway

The committee met in the afternoon and an authoritative source said later made "considerable progress."

The same source said it was "very possible" that such a treaty could be initiated or signed while Dulles still was in Korea and submitted to the Senate at its next session.

Rhee had demanded the security treaty as one of his conditions for going along with the Korean armistice.

The treaty would call on the United States to come to the aid of South Korea in the event of a new Communist attack.

Admiral Hails U. S. Midget Sub

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—A retired naval commander says a new American midget submarine, powered by a top secret fuel, "may revolutionize naval strategy and tactics as we practice them today."

Vice Adm. Charles A. Lockwood Jr., Ret., who commanded the Pacific sub fleet during World War II, adds:

"After years of evaluating midget submarines and other sneak craft such as the Japanese, Germans, British and Italians used in World War II, the United States has taken the first step in designing a midget sub more deadly than any of its foreign predecessors."

Lockwood's views were expressed in an article written with Cornelius Ryan, in the Aug. 21 issue of Collier's magazine.

He said the first midget sub is in the design and development stage at the Fairchild Engine & Airplane Corp. at Farmingdale, N. Y.

It is not a suicide weapon, Lockwood added, and its crew of four Navy underwater experts—so-called frogmen—will have as good a chance at survival as any other submariners.

Immigration Service Files Adonis Deportation Order

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today announced filing of a deportation order against New Jersey gambler Joe Adonis and said he will be sent back to Italy.

The order was filed by a special inquiry officer of the Immigration Service who presided at recent hearings on the proposed exclusion of Adonis.

The deportation order is based on grounds that Adonis lacked a valid passport when he last entered the United States seven years ago after a visit to Cuba.

In addition, the Immigration Service has charged him with failure to register as an alien and to keep the service advised of his address under the alien registration statute.

Adonis, who lives in Palisades, N. J., has long claimed he is a native-born American citizen. The Justice Department contends he was born in Italy 51 years ago and never naturalized.

Adonis, summoned as a witness in various crime investigations, was only recently released from the New Jersey State Penitentiary where he served time for operating a gambling house.

Arms Aid For Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey, Aug. 5 (AP) — The United States and Turkey signed an agreement today releasing 111,400,000 Turkish lira (about $39,800,000) in Mutual Security Administration funds to supplement Turkey's military budget.

Many Hobble From Trucks; One ROK Dead

Condition Is Much Worse Than First Group Repatriated

PANMUNJOM, Thursday, Aug. 6 (AP)—The halt, the lame and the desperately ill streamed back to freedom today from the Red stockades of North Korea. Their condition raised a burning question why they were not released in last April's pre-armistice trade of sick and wounded prisoners.

One South Korean was dead on arrival.

Three hundred ninety-two Allied prisoners, including 70 Americans, were in this second day of the armistice exchange.

Forty-two of the Americans and many of the South Koreans and others were sick, crippled or amputees. Some hobbled painfully down from the Communist trucks with crutches and crude canes. Some were borne on litters, their wasted bodies making light burdens for the bearers.

Living Skeletons

These men appeared in much worse condition than the 70 Americans and 330 other Allies freed yesterday by the Chinese and North Korean Reds. British POWs returned today appeared in good condition.

Some of the South Koreans looked like living skeletons.

One American negro seemed oblivious of the whole thing. He was in a state of extreme shock. He stepped into thin air from the Communist truck and would have fallen on his face had not a hand caught him.

An Allied officer said one South Korean was dead when he was taken out of the ambulance on a stretcher and examined.

A blue Chinese blanket was pulled over the dead prisoner's head and the body was flown out in a helicopter. Cause of the death was not immediately made known.

Today's exchange worked with precision, as had that of the day before. It began on the exact stroke of 9 a.m. (7 p.m. Wednesday, EST) the first group was cleared one hour ahead of schedule.

Some Display Fiery Spirit

Fewer prisoners were demonstrative, yet some displayed fiery spirit still.

One South Korean spread his arms and coughed out painfully a curse which was roughly translated, "May God damn the Communists!"

Another South Korean said that last April, when all sick and wounded were supposed to be exchanged, some South Koreans were brought south, held for a while, then returned to the northern

U. N. Protests Tactics Of Communist POWs

PANMUNJOM, Thursday, Aug. 6 (AP) — The United Nations Command today protested strongly against unruly demonstrations by Communist prisoners being delivered to Red reception officials.

The Communists have been ripping up and discarding newly-issued clothing, shouting insults and punching Allied personnel.

Obviously these were propaganda tactics for the benefit of Communist newsreels cameramen in the Red reception center.

Taft's Will Sets Up Pair Of Trust Funds

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5 (AP)—The late Sen. Robert A. Taft, set up two trust funds in his will after leaving all personal effects to his widow, Mrs. Martha Taft.

One fund set aside 49 per cent of his assets, from which Mrs. Taft will receive the income for life. Later it will be disposed of as she sees fit.

The other 51 per cent of his assets also go to her for life and, upon her death, is to be divided in equal shares between the four sons, William Howard Taft III, ambassador to Ireland; Robert A. Taft Jr., Lloyd B. Taft and Horace D. Taft.

Gen. Navarre's View

HANOI, Indochina, Aug. 5 (AP) — Gen. Henri Eugene Navarre, commander in chief of French Union forces in Indochina, tonight said he did not think Communist China ever could attack this country without risking World War III.

The general said he felt that the world is so fed up with Communist moves that any attempt to move in to aid Ho Chi Minh against French Union forces would produce immediate counter action by United States and United Nations troops.

These men appeared in much worse condition than the 70 Americans and 330 other Allies freed yesterday by the Chinese and North Korean Reds. British POWs returned today appeared in good condition.

Some of the South Koreans looked like living skeletons.

One American negro seemed oblivious of the whole thing. He was in a state of extreme shock. He stepped into thin air from the Communist truck and would have fallen on his face had not a hand caught him.

An Allied officer said one South Korean was dead when he was taken out of the ambulance on a stretcher and examined.

A blue Chinese blanket was pulled over the dead prisoner's head and the body was flown out in a helicopter. Cause of the death was not immediately made known.

Today's exchange worked with precision, as had that of the day before. It began on the exact stroke of 9 a.m. (7 p.m. Wednesday, EST) the first group was cleared one hour ahead of schedule.

Some Display Fiery Spirit

Fewer prisoners were demonstrative, yet some displayed fiery spirit still.

One South Korean spread his arms and coughed out painfully a curse which was roughly translated, "May God damn the Communists!"

Another South Korean said that last April, when all sick and wounded were supposed to be exchanged, some South Koreans were brought south, held for a while, then returned to the northern

Baltimore Mayor's Son Accused In Rape Case

BALTIMORE, Aug. 6 (AP)—Franklin Delano Roosevelt D'Alesandro, 20-year-old son of Baltimore's mayor, was charged today with raping a 13-year-old girl.

The girl and an 11-year-old cousin had told police they were kept in a West Preston Street apartment from July 20 to July 28 by a gang of young men who repeatedly assaulted them.

D'Alesandro, whose father returned just today after a 70-day tour of Europe, was put in a police lineup this evening. He was charged half an hour later and released on $10,000 bail.

Three other young men previously had been indicted in the case. One of them, Armand L. Coriddi, 23, was arrested less than an hour after D'Alesandro's release. The other two, George Baccala, 24, and Philip Sudano, 22, were arraigned Monday and released on $10,000 bail.

The younger D'Alesandro was released just 20 minutes before his father, Thomas D'Alesandro Jr., arrived at a welcome home banquet.

"I hope that the oldest and most respected law in our country, that a man is innocent until proved guilty, holds good for a mayor's son as well as anyone else," the Democratic mayor said at the banquet.

The accused D'Alesandro was born March 7, 1933—three days after the inauguration of the late President Roosevelt for whom he was named.

The D'Alesandros have five other children, four boys and a girl.

Mayor D'Alesandro, serving his second term and mentioned as a likely candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Maryland next year, arrived in New York yesterday.

While he was away his home was burglarized, his maids reported receiving threatening telephone calls, and one of his city commissions was being investigated by a grand jury.

The grand jury is looking into practices of the Off-Street Parking Commission which finances private construction of garages. Among the records subpoenaed are those of Dominic Piracci, contractor for 10 of the garages. Piracci is a close friend of Mayor D'Alesandro and his daughter is married to one of the mayor's sons.

The case in which the mayor's son is charged with "carnally knowing and abusing" first came to light Monday when two young men were arraigned on rape and perversion charges involving the young girl cousins.

It was testified the two girls went for a walk July 20 and disappeared. Their families reported them missing.

A week later, one of the girls came home and said the two of them had been held for a week in the apartment.

Mass Desertions Hit East German Police And Army

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—A new wave of mass desertions hit East Germany's Red Wehrmacht today and thousands of Soviet zone railwaymen started to sabotage the Communist blockade of American food relief.

Twenty armed soldiers and 17 People's Police escaped to West Germany.

Railwaymen in Russian-occupied Brandenburg engaged in wholesale violation of the decree against relief travel to Berlin, allowing 40,000 to slip into the city.

The total of U. S.-financed food packages given away in 10 days reached 1,570,000. There were 125,000 handed out today, about half to zonal residents and the remainder to East Berliners.

Deserters Fed Up

The rush of Brandenburgers evading the Red railway ban nearly equalled the number coming daily before the travel ban was imposed last Saturday night. But in Saxony, Thuringia, Saxony-Anhalt and Mecklenburg, Communist army and police patrols still sealed off most trains from relief applicants.

Bitterly fed up with Communist terror, the deserting soldiers and police turned in their khaki and blue uniforms to Western authorities. They were given civilian dress, and a promise of resettlement in the Bonn republic. They told Allied Intelligence officers of widespread discontent in the East German armed forces, growing daily as they had to carry on with repressive measures against the hungry people.

Women, Children Beaten

"I couldn't stand it any more when women and children with Ami (American) food packages were beaten last weekend," a 20-year-old corporal said.

It was the largest mass flight since June 24, when 46 soldiers and policemen asked for political refuge in a single day, their morale broken by the East German revolt a week earlier. A total of 1,675 troops and 880 police—2,555 in all—have deserted to West Berlin since Jan. 1.

W. Europe Ministers Will Confer Today

BONN, Germany, Aug. 5 (AP)—The foreign ministers of six West European nations convene in Baden Baden tomorrow to review—and possibly approve—the blueprint for a European union and to discuss the whole range of East-West problems.

The ministers of France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and France are to confer three days in the resort city in the Black Forest.

It will be the first foreign ministers conference held on German soil since World War II. Italy, which is undergoing a Cabinet crisis, will be represented by an undersecretary of foreign affairs, Paolo Emio Taviani.

Dulles And Rhee Due To Consider Korea Unification

SEOUL, Thursday, Aug. 6 (AP)—Top aides of U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and President Syngman Rhee today were reported nearing agreement on a U. S.-Korea mutual security pact.

SEOUL, Thursday, Aug. 6 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and President Syngman Rhee expect to tackle the difficult problem of unification for Korea today after a smooth, harmonious first meeting yesterday.

Dulles returns to Rhee's presidential mansion at 10 a.m. (8 p.m. Wednesday, EST).

The talks already were reported to have produced "considerable progress" toward a security treaty between their two nations.

Such a treaty, subject to ratification by the U. S. Senate, could well be agreed upon before Dulles departs Saturday.

First Session Goes Well

Dulles now must take up with the strong-willed South Korean leader the problems of unification of North and South Korea.

This long-sought goal of Rhee's was skipped over in their opening discussions Wednesday which Dulles reported afterward "went very well."

In Wednesday's session, which lasted two hours, Dulles and Rhee were said to have agreed to seek the opening of the Korean peace conference sometime in the first half of October.

They turned over to a special "working committee" of U. S. and South Korean officials the problems of negotiating details of the security pact.

Committee Makes Headway

The committee met in the afternoon and an authoritative source said later made "considerable progress."

The same source said it was "very possible" that such a treaty could be initiated or signed while Dulles still was in Korea and submitted to the Senate at its next session.

Rhee had demanded the security treaty as one of his conditions for going along with the Korean armistice.

The treaty would call on the United States to come to the aid of South Korea in the event of a new Communist attack.

Admiral Hails U. S. Midget Sub

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—A retired naval commander says a new American midget submarine, powered by a top secret fuel, "may revolutionize naval strategy and tactics as we practice them today."

Vice Adm. Charles A. Lockwood Jr., Ret., who commanded the Pacific sub fleet during World War II, adds:

"After years of evaluating midget submarines and other sneak craft such as the Japanese, Germans, British and Italians used in World War II, the United States has taken the first step in designing a midget sub more deadly than any of its foreign predecessors."

Lockwood's views were expressed in an article written with Cornelius Ryan, in the Aug. 21 issue of Collier's magazine.

He said the first midget sub is in the design and development stage at the Fairchild Engine & Airplane Corp. at Farmingdale, N. Y.

It is not a suicide weapon, Lockwood added, and its crew of four Navy underwater experts—so-called frogmen—will have as good a chance at survival as any other submariners.

U. N. Protests Tactics Of Communist POWs

PANMUNJOM, Thursday, Aug. 6 (AP)—The United Nations Command today protested strongly against unruly demonstrations being delivered to Red reception officials.

The Communists have been ripping up and discarding newly-issued clothing, shouting insults and punching Allied personnel.

Obviously these were propaganda tactics for the benefit of Communist newsreels cameramen in the Red reception center.

Taft's Will Sets Up Pair Of Trust Funds

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5 (AP)—The late Sen. Robert A. Taft, set up two trust funds in his will after leaving all personal effects to his widow, Mrs. Martha Taft.

One fund set aside 49 per cent of his assets, from which Mrs. Taft will receive the income for life. Later it will be disposed of as she sees fit.

The other 51 per cent of his assets also go to her for life and, upon her death, is to be divided in equal shares between the four sons, William Howard Taft III, ambassador to Ireland; Robert A. Taft Jr., Lloyd B. Taft and Horace D. Taft.

Cost Of Printing Congress Talk Over Million Dollars

WASHINGTON, Aug 5 (AP)—Congressional talk cost the taxpayers more than a million dollars for printing in the session that ended Monday.

The Congressional Record put out a resume today showing just what the nation's lawmakers did and didn't do in the first session of the 83rd Congress.

The resume did not cover the final two days of the session, last Saturday and Monday, but it turned up these statistics for the period from Jan. 3 through July 31:

1. The Senate and House were in session for a total of 1,235 hours during the seven-month stretch.

2. Floor debates and supplementary material inserted in the record filled 16,211 pages of printed matter.

3. There were 302 bills passed by both Houses, 176 public bills and 126 for the benefit of private individuals.

4. Of that total, President Eisenhower vetoed three.

5. The House ran far behind the Senate in the number of hours in session and in the volume of talk.

It costs $84 for the government printing office to publish each page of the Congressional Record, which records all the debate on the floors of both Houses plus the letters, editorials and speeches put into the record by the Congress members.

The senators used 6,479 pages for debate. That cost $544,236. The House talked through only 4,533 pages costing $380,772. In addition, there were 5,199 pages in the appendixes at a cost of $436,716.

The grand total: $1,371,724.

Reds Say Sick POWs Have Minor Ailments

TOKYO, Thursday, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Communist Peiping radio today said all sick and wounded non-Korean prisoners of war were given a medical checkup before their departure for Panmunjom and that "most of them had only minor ailments."

This claim was in sharp contrast to the statement of Col. Fred W. Seymour, head of the Freedom Village hospital, who said 30 men out of the first 60 returned Wednesday had active tuberculosis.

The Communist statement was made in the Red account of the first day of the repatriation of Allied prisoners of war.

Byrnes Signals Continued Dixie Support Of Ike

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 5 (AP)—South Carolina's Gov. James F. Byrnes signaled continued Southern Democratic support of President Eisenhower with the assertion today that people from the Potomac to the Gulf have "declared their independence" in politics.

Byrnes told a news conference, in what amounted to flat notice that he and other Dixie bolters are in no mood to return to the national Democratic fold, that President Eisenhower's popularity in the South is greater than ever.

Byrnes said flatly that if the next Democratic presidential nominating convention attempts to extract an advance pledge of support for its nominee he personally would not go as a delegate.

Byrnes, one of the discussion leaders at the 45th annual governors conference here, said he is convinced that more and more Southerners are prepared to discard the Democratic label of their grandfathers.

Byrnes spoke at a news conference after the governors had joined in welcoming home 2,313 GIs from Korea.

Immigration Service Files Adonis Deportation Order

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today announced filing of a deportation order against New Jersey gambler Joe Adonis and said he will be sent back to Italy.

The order was filed by a special inquiry officer of the Immigration Service who presided at recent hearings on the proposed exclusion of Adonis.

The deportation order is based on grounds that Adonis lacked a valid passport when he last entered the United States seven years ago after a visit to Cuba.

In addition, the Immigration Service has charged him with failure to register as an alien and to keep the service advised of his address under the alien registration statute.

Adonis, who lives in Palisades, N. J., has long claimed he is a native-born American citizen. The Justice Department contends he was born in Italy 51 years ago and never naturalized.

Adonis, summoned as a witness in various crime investigations, was only recently released from the New Jersey State Penitentiary where he served time for operating a gambling house.

Arms Aid For Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey, Aug. 5 (AP)—The United States and Turkey signed an agreement today releasing 111,400,000 Turkish lira (about $39,800,000) in Mutual Security Administration funds to supplement Turkey's military budget.

Fifth Of Record Soviet Budget Is For Military

Drop From 1952 Total For Armed Forces Indicated

MOSCOW, Aug. 5 (AP)—Premier Georgi M. Malenkov's government presented to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) tonight the biggest budget in the history of the U. S. S. R. More than one fifth of the half-trillion ruble budget is earmarked specifically for the armed forces.

Finance Minister Arseny Zverev told a joint session of the Supreme Soviet 1953 expenditures would be 530½ billion rubles. Of this armed forces expenditures are listed at 110,200,000,000 rubles. This would indicate a decrease of 3,600,000,000 rubles from the 1952 armed forces outlay.

Four Rubles To Dollar

(The Soviet Union values the ruble at four to the dollar. This would mean in dollar equivalents a budget of 132½ billion dollars, of which more than 27½ billion dollars would be for the armed forces. This is not necessarily the whole Soviet defense budget picture, however. Western authorities say Soviet official budgetary expenditures for the military fail to include all military expenses. Many such expenses normally listed in the United States under defense would be placed in other categories in the Soviet estimates. There is no indication, for example, how much money under the heading of capital investment goes for industrial development required by the military or into other essentially military programs. United States experts estimate that at least half the total Soviet budget goes directly or indirectly for military purposes.

U. S. Budget 74 Billion

(As revised last May, the total United States budget was 74 billion dollars, of which 43 billion was for defense. United States spending in the period ended June 30 totaled just over 74½ billion dollars. However, congressional paring has shaved the defense spending estimate for the next fiscal year to 34½ billion dollars. Comparisons between Soviet and American budgets are difficult because of differences in the operation of the two systems.)

The Soviet budget announcements this year came five months later than normally. In March, 1952, the Supreme Soviet approved a budget calling for total expenditures just short of 477 billion rubles, of which 113,800,000,000 was earmarked for the armed forces. In 1951, the figure for defense was 96 billion.

DENIES SHARING IN FEE—Louis Markus, New York business man, yesterday denied under oath that he shared in a $65,000 fee paid to a former Democratic National Committee lawyer for getting a favorable ruling in a tax case. Markus made his denial before the House Ways and Means subcommittee. The lawyer, Welburn Mayock, told the investigators that he gave Markus $8,750 from the fee.

Mother Accused Of Keeping Son Lashed To Chair

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 5 (AP)—A naked 11-year-old boy was found tied to a wooden rocking chair in a locked room today.

The frail child's 31-year-old mother screamed and fought with police as the boy and his 14-month-old sister were taken away by officers.

Mrs. John Martin, a county probation officer, said Mrs. Bernice Grizzell was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and neglect.

The officer said Mrs. Grizzell has nine children, all of whom have been in care of county authorities until the boy and girl were returned home recently on a "trial basis."

Names of the children were not immediately available.

Mrs. Elizbeth Pierce, who occupied an apartment across the hall from the Grizzels' upstairs room, said the boy had been crying for two days.

She said she finally opened the door and looked in, then called her son who covered his eyes at the sight.

The probation officer said the boy, who is crippled, was tied in a chair with a rope of rags. He was covered with his own filth.

Ike To Report Tonight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower will make a radio report to the nation tomorrow night on the record of his administration to date with particular reference to the work of the Congress session just closed. The address will be carried by the four major radio networks between 8:30 and 9:00 p.m. EST.

The first barbed wire was made in 1873 at DeKalb, Ill.

Knowland Says:

Special Session Would Not Be Limited To Single Issue

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Any special session of Congress this fall will consider a wide field of legislation, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today.

"I think everyone wants to avoid a special session of Congress if this is possible," the newly-named Senate Republican leader said.

But if one has to be called, it will not be limited to a single issue. He mentioned statehood for Hawaii, revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law and proposals for development of the St. Lawrence seaway and related power projects as some items that might be considered. All were considered but deferred during the regular session which closed Monday.

Most likely reason for calling a special session would be the need of raising the national debt limit, but Knowland said one may be necessary also if there is a new crisis in the international situation, "such as a new Communist aggression or failure of the Communists to keep the truce in Korea."

Knowland, who breakfasted with the President today, said congressional leaders will meet again with Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey about Sept. 25 to discuss whether a special session is necessary to increase the debt limit. That date is 10 days after third quarter tax receipts are due, and the Treasury then should have a good idea how nearly income is meeting expenses.

After a vacation, Knowland said he plans an inspection trip to Korea, Formosa, Japan, Indochina, The Philippines, and other Far East places to talk with leaders there.

It will be his fourth trip to Asia since he has been a senator.

prisons. Why? No one could say.

In that April exchange, a number of healthy-looking men were inexplicably freed by the Reds. They said then that they left behind friends who were in much worse shape.

Among the 2,756 Chinese and Korean Reds being sent north by the Allies today there was the same show of savage defiance that has marked previous exchanges.

Some die-hards yelled and sang, ripped clothing and threw things. One American lieutenant colonel was hit in the face by a thrown boot. He had been struck yesterday with a crutch.

One of the first liberated Americans was the second cousin of Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, the man who for long months sat across from the Communists at the truce table.

He was Maj. Thomas D. Harrison, an airman from Clovis, N.M.

In Tokyo the former senior allied truce delegate, said joyfully:

Court Martial Frees Army Medical Officer

FORT DEVENS, Mass., Aug. 5 (AP)—An Army court martial today acquitted Lt. Sheppard C. Thierman of charges of obtaining his commission fraudulently by concealing Communist party affiliations.

The nine-man jury board deliberated three hours and one minute before returning a verdict favorable to the 31-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y., medical officer. The ballot count was not disclosed.

The medical officer's attorney, Emanuel Bloch, said the verdict "represents a setback for those who would like to stifle the thoughts of those with whom they do not agree. This shows that justice can prevail in America."

Bloch was counsel for the convicted atom spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, who died in the Sing Sing electric chair last month.

Conant Assailed By German Reds

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—The East German Red regime tonight denounced U. S. High Commissioner James B. Conant for what it called colonial conditions on his offer to release blocked East German funds in New York for purchase of relief food.

The reply followed a reminder on the U. S. government radio station RIAS that the East Berlin radio had not yet mentioned Conant's offer.

Taking up the U. S. radio challenge, the Communists charged the fund of $1,400,000, blocked illegally and said: "Therefore the government of the German Democratic Republic demands that (the dollars) be freed unconditionally."

"Neither the high commissioner nor the U. S. A. government has the right to mix in the sale of food in East Germany," the Red radio said. "East Germany is no colony and also not in the position of the Western zones where foreign imperialists have the final decision over economic policy."

The statement was authorized by the government for distribution by the Soviet zone news agency ADN.

Lacking 59 Cents Of Fine, Prisoner Hangs Self In Jail

NASHVILLE, TEnn., Aug. 5 (AP)—With $4.41 in his pocket, Layman Bedford White stood unsteadily before the court yesterday and drew a $5 fine for drunkenness.

Because he lacked the 59 cents necessary to pay, White went to the workhouse. Last night after he had served the time necessary to make up the difference, White was due to be freed.

Instead, officials found he had hanged himself in a shower stall.

Lacking 59 Cents Of Fine, Prisoner Hangs Self In Jail

NASHVILLE, TEnn., Aug. 5 (AP)—With $4.41 in his pocket, Layman Bedford White stood unsteadily before the court yesterday and drew a $5 fine for drunkenness.

Because he lacked the 59 cents necessary to pay, White went to the workhouse. Last night after he had served the time necessary to make up the difference, White was due to be freed.

Instead, officials found he had hanged himself in a shower stall.

Mother Accused Of Keeping Son Lashed To Chair

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 5 (AP)—A naked 11-year-old boy was found tied to a wooden rocking chair in a locked room today.

The frail child's 31-year-old mother screamed and fought with police as the boy and his 14-month-old sister were taken away by officers.

Mrs. John Martin, a county probation officer, said Mrs. Bernice Grizzell was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and neglect.

The officer said Mrs. Grizzell has nine children, all of whom have been in care of county authorities until the boy and girl were returned home recently on a "trial basis."

Names of the children were not immediately available.

Mrs. Elizbeth Pierce, who occupied an apartment across the hall from the Grizzels' upstairs room, said the boy had been crying for two days.

She said she finally opened the door and looked in, then called her son who covered his eyes at the sight.

The probation officer said the boy, who is crippled, was tied in a chair with a rope of rags. He was covered with his own filth.

Ike To Report Tonight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower will make a radio report to the nation tomorrow night on the record of his administration to date with particular reference to the work of the Congress session just closed. The address will be carried by the four major radio networks between 8:30 and 9:00 p.m. EST.

The first barbed wire was made in 1873 at DeKalb, Ill.

Knowland Says:

Special Session Would Not Be Limited To Single Issue

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Any special session of Congress this fall will consider a wide field of legislation, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today.

"I think everyone wants to avoid a special session of Congress if this is possible," the newly-named Senate Republican leader said.

But if one has to be called, it will not be limited to a single issue. He mentioned statehood for Hawaii, revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law and proposals for development of the St. Lawrence seaway and related power projects as some items that might be considered. All were considered but deferred during the regular session which closed Monday.

Most likely reason for calling a special session would be the need of raising the national debt limit, but Knowland said one may be necessary also if there is a new crisis in the international situation, "such as a new Communist aggression or failure of the Communists to keep the truce in Korea."

Knowland, who breakfasted with the President today, said congressional leaders will meet again with Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey about Sept. 25 to discuss whether a special session is necessary to increase the debt limit. That date is 10 days after third quarter tax receipts are due, and the Treasury then should have a good idea how nearly income is meeting expenses.

After a vacation, Knowland said he plans an inspection trip to Korea, Formosa, Japan, Indochina, The Philippines, and other Far East places to talk with leaders there.

It will be his fourth trip to Asia since he has been a senator.

Many Hobble

prisons. Why? No one could say.

In that April exchange, a number of healthy-looking men were inexplicably freed by the Reds. They said then that they left behind friends who were in much worse shape.

Among the 2,756 Chinese and Korean Reds being sent north by the Allies today there was the same show of savage defiance that has marked previous exchanges.

Some die-hards yelled and sang, ripped clothing and threw things. One American lieutenant colonel was hit in the face by a thrown boot. He had been struck yesterday with a crutch.

One of the first liberated Americans was the second cousin of Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, the man who for long months sat across from the Communists at the truce table.

He was Maj. Thomas D. Harrison, an airman from Clovis, N.M.

In Tokyo the former senior allied truce delegate, said joyfully:

Court Martial Frees Army Medical Officer

FORT DEVENS, Mass., Aug. 5 (AP)—An Army court martial today acquitted Lt. Sheppard C. Thierman of charges of obtaining his commission fraudulently by concealing Communist party affiliations.

The nine-man jury board deliberated three hours and one minute before returning a verdict favorable to the 31-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y., medical officer. The ballot count was not disclosed.

The medical officer's attorney, Emanuel Bloch, said the verdict "represents a setback for those who would like to stifle the thoughts of those with whom they do not agree. This shows that justice can prevail in America."

Bloch was counsel for the convicted atom spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, who died in the Sing Sing electric chair last month.

Leads Shattered As Officers Hunt Turnpike Slayer

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 5 (AP)—Police shattered new leads—topped by a second confession—as fast as they developed today in the hunt for the midnight murderer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

A 41-year-old man awakened a Catholic priest in the early morning hours at Philadelphia and said he shot two truck drivers through the head as they slept in their cabs alongside the super toll highway.

But relatives said he made a habit of confessing to crimes about which he read in newspapers. Police questioned him at length but said he was unable to give many important details of the killings and apparently had no connection with them. He was charged with disorderly conduct and taken to a hospital for observation.

Same Story In Ohio

It was the same story in Youngstown, O. Police discounted the tavern boasts of a 29-year-old World War II veteran and former mental patient that he was the killer.

And in Pittsburgh, a suspicious tan 1947 (Chevrolet) convertible found by police with Virginia and West Virginia plates turned out to be owned by a West Virginia auto dealer.

Meanwhile, ballistic tests were made to see if Leroy Wilcox, 17-year-old Negro boy shot to death along a road near his Woodbury, N. J., home, was killed by a .32. Officers said the death weapon appeared to have been of such caliber but chances were 999 to 1 against any connection with the trucker slayings.

Two Killed By Same Gun

It was a .32 automatic which killed Lester B. Woodward of near Harrisburg, and Harry F. Pitts, 39, Bowling Green, Va., on the Turnpike. The same gun wounded John F. Sheperd, 34, West Alexander, Pa., just off the toll road in Ohio.

It was Sheperd's report that a yellow or tan Chevrolet pulled away from his truck after he was shot that focused police attention on such cars.

Police Supt. James W. Slusser of Pittsburgh says the killer may be hiding in the city since the shootings occurred to the east and west. Frightened truckers are reported arming themselves with or without permits and one has been arrested for carrying firearms.

Phone Call Would Have Cost Less

CHICAGO, Aug 5 (AP) — Taylor Samuel, who set off a grenade outside the building where a girl friend was at work to let her know he was waiting, learned today that a telephone call would have been much less expensive.

He was fined $25 and costs in South State Street Court on a charge of setting off explosives within the city limits.

The simulator grenade was set off Friday night outside the Chicago Sun-Times building. Samuel, 39, an Army Reserve captain who lives in suburban Evanston, told police he obtained the grenade while taking summer training. Simulator grenades were used to produce battle sound effects in training maneuvers.

Ike May Act Today On Movie Tax Repeal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP) — White House officials indicated today that President Eisenhower will act tomorrow on the bill repealing the 20 per cent tax on tickets to motion picture theaters.

A veto of the measure has been generally predicted because Congress made no provision to make up for the loss of an estimated 100 million dollars in government revenue which would result from wiping out the levy.

Packer Apologizes, Fined For Assaulting Inspector

MAY SUCCEED TAFT — The Middletown (Ohio) Journal said Aug. 4 that it had learned the appointment of Dr. Arthur Flemming (above) to succeed the late U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft "is certain as death." The Journal quoted its source, close to the office of Democrat Gov. Lausche, who will name Taft's successor, as appointment that "will satisfy Republicans and Democrats alike." The paper said that Dr. Flemming is neither Democrat nor Republican, but leans toward the Republican side.

CRISFIELD, Md., Aug. 5 (AP)—A Crisfield seafood packer apologized to the State Health Department today and was fined $500 for an attack on one of its sanitary inspectors.

Richard W. Christy pleaded guilty to charges of assault and battery and obstructing the officer in the performance of his duty.

Magistrate J. Herman Sterling imposed $250 fines on each of the charges.

The whole procedure required no more than three minutes and once it was over Christy shook hands with William P. Murray, the health department sanitarian who brought the charges.

Christy gave his written promise there would be no more trouble such as broke out when Murray inspected the Christy oyster plant on July 20.

Carroll S. Brinsfield, director of the health department's Bureau of Food Control in Baltimore, had demanded such a promise. Without it, he said, he would send no more inspectors to Christy's plant. Without an inspection and a certificate that it complied with sanitary regulations, the plant could not operate when the new oyster season opens in September.

Christy pleaded guilty after he and his attorney held a conference with Brinsfield and Murray.

The attorney, Prentiss W Evans, told the court his client regretted the incident.

"We believe the relations between the Department of Health and Mr. Christy from now on will be very cordial," he said. "There is no hostility now."

Housewife Found Dead In Fence She Helped Electrify

BIG STONE GAP, Va., Aug. 5 (AP) —The body of Mrs. Julia Lane, 35, was found today entangled in a fence which she and her husband, Ballard Lane, had electrified to keep boys out of their garden, Wise County Sheriff Harold Fleming reported.

Fleming said Lane told him that a few days ago he and his wife erected a small fence around their garden and charged it with 110 volts of electricity.

Mrs. Lane got up before daybreak today to go to an outhouse, the sheriff related. "Somehow she got entangled in the fence. We also found a dead dog in the fence."

Mail More Important Than Food To Ex-POWs

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Thursday Aug. 6 (AP) —Good food was ready for the returning Allied prisoners here yesterday, but it waited.

A Red Cross worker said the repatriates "ignored the food completely until they read their mail" which had been accumulating here for them for weeks . . .

A guide asked a soldier in the processing line why he had stopped. The soldier pointed to a Red Cross girl and said: "That's the first girl I've seen in 33 months." . . .

Ambulance driver Kenneth Myers, a private first class from Ft. Des Moines, Iowa, fixed up his own little surprise for the repatriates. He filled his canteen with four cans of beer before starting out to pick up returning prisoners at Panmunjom.

His ambulance loaded, he tossed the canteen back to the men and said: "How'd you fellows like some Stateside beer." They liked it. . .

Manager Of Market Fined In Parking Row

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 5 (AP) — Arthur W. Sheets, a district manager of A & P Stores and owner of the controversial lot opposite an A & P supermarket in Hagerstown, was fined $500 and costs today for violation of an injunction banning parking on the lot.

Judge Joseph B. Mish, who imposed the fine, issued an injunction against the parking last September. A petition for the contempt citation was brought by the city.

The area of town in which the supermarket is located is zoned as service and does not permit parking lots. It was zoned after construction of the market.

Judge Mish contended it was obvious Sheets approved use of the lot for parking and welcomed use of it by A & P customers.

Sofia Radio Revives Old Vienna Waltzes

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 5 (AP) — Sofia radio in Red-ruled Bulgaria revived its repertory of Vienna waltzes tonight with some long unused records.

Bulgarian refugees here said it was the first time in years that Sofia has played such old favorites as Johann Strauss' Fruehlingsstimmen (Spring Voices Waltz). They were puzzled over the significance of 15 solid minutes of old Vienna—somewhat thin and scratchy—from Sofia.

"All my prayers have been answered," the mother said.

Insurance Agent Gets Prison Term On Fraud Charge

PRINCESS ANNE , Md., Aug. 5 (AP)—Walter E. Lindsay, 26-year-old Salisbury insurance agent and sometime preacher, today pleaded guilty to perpetrating fraud on some of his customers and was sentenced to three years in prison.

The state charged he bilked Somerset countians out of about $1,500 in insurance premiums.

The sentence was imposed by Judge E. McMaster Duer in Somerset County Circuit Court.

Lloyd L. Simpkins, Princess Anne attorney and delegate in Maryland General Assembly, did most of the investigating that unmasked Lindsay.

Simpkins said his suspicions were aroused when several policy holders came to him saying they had paid Lindsay a year's premium but found out their policies covered them only for a month.

Family Of Md. POW Rejoices

LADIESBURG, Md., Aug. 5 (AP)—As other Maryland families hoped today for similar good news, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sayler rejoiced with the word that their son, feared dead, was a war prisoner and has been released.

Their 20-year-old son Hall, an Army infantryman, had been missing in action in Korea since last Nov. 29. He was the first Marylander prisoner released by the Communists since the signing of the armistice.

Since he was reported missing, the family said it had heard nothing of Hall.

Last night they listened to news broadcasts for word of released prisoners but finally gave up because of static caused by a storm.

Minutes after turning off their television set a newspaperman called them with word that Hall was among the 70 Americans released in the first POW exchange since the armistice.

Mrs. Sayler answered the phone. Seconds later, she said, members of the family were hugging each other and shouting for joy.

Said Mrs. Sayler: "It was the greatest thing that ever happened to me in all my life." Sayler said "This makes up for our bad Christmas last year."

Planning Funds Set For Water Projects

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Army engineers today announced 35 flood control, navigation and multiple purpose projects on which it has allocated planning funds for the current fiscal year.

The final version of the Army civil functions bill — signed by President Eisenhower—sets planning funds for the engineers at $1,900,000.

Projects and amounts announced by the engineers today include:

District of Columbia—Anacosita River, $175,000.

Virginia — Gathright & Falling Spring Reservoirs, $40,000.

West Virginia—Hildebrand Lock & Dam, $35,000.

Tennessee — Carthage Dam, $30,000.

Sen. Jenner Repays $12,000 In Disability

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP) —An aide to Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) said today Jenner has repaid to the government $12,000 in disability pay he received after his retirement from the Air Force in World War II.

The repayment was made in June, the aide said.

Jenner suffered an eye ailment and was retired for physical disability in 1944.

A question about his disability pay was raised in the election campaign last year and he asked for a ruling from the General Accounting Office.

GAO held that the pay was illegal because Jenner already was receiving government pay as a senator. He was first elected to the Senate in 1946.

Three Injured In 4-Way Crash

BALTIMORE, Aug. 5 (AP) — A Washington couple and their baby girl were hurt and 39 Greyhound bus passengers shaken up today in a four-way crash on alternate U. S. Route 1 just southwest of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lewis, both 24, and their year-old daughter, Mary were thrown from their auto. Their address was listed as 4600 block Asbury Place, N. W., Washington.

The family remained at St. Agnes Hospital for observation after being treated for multiple lacerations.

Baltimore County police at Halethorpe said the Lewis car attempted to pass the bus on the right and as the car moved back into the fast lane its left rear hit the right front section of the bus.

Police said the car then jumped the dividing marker and collided with two southbound cars.

Government Goes Deeper Into Red

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The government slid $2,759,000,000 into the red during July, the first month of the new fiscal year, although it spent 874 millions less than in July 1952.

This, and other details of the government's financial position, were disclosed today in the Treasury's statement for July 31, summing up the government's income, spending and borrowing for the month. The 1954 fiscal year began July 1.

Spending by the government this July amounted to $6,067,572,000 compared with $6,741,775,000 in July 1952.

Receipts were virtually the same for the two months—$3,308,386,000 this July and $3,315,735,000 in July 1952.

Economies in the Post Office Department, and Congress' decision not to keep adding to the civil service retirement fund, accounted for most of the reduction in spending.

No Candidates So No Election

WILLARDS, Md., Aug. 5 (AP) — Willards is going to try again to have an election, in about two weeks.

It was supposed to have one last Monday, but you can't have an election without candidates. The polls at the firehouse weren't even opened.

Here's the situation on the board of town commissioners:

V. D. Truitt resigned sometime ago because of ill health, leaving a vacancy.

William Massey is in poor health, so he decided not to run for re-election.

Walter Layton, the third member, didn't see much point in filing his candidacy when no one else was running.

Massey and Layton continue as the town board.

John E. Jacob, Salisbury attorney who's their legal adviser, suggested they might get out of the dilemma this way:

Layton and Massey will appoint a third member to the board, succeeding Truitt. Then Massey can carry out his intention to resign. Layton and the man who takes Truitt's place can then name a man to take Massey's place.

With the board restored to three members, it can set a new election date.

The commissioners serve two-year terms. There isn't any pay.

CRISFIELD, Md., Aug. 5 (AP)—A Crisfield seafood packer apologized to the State Health Department today and was fined $500 for an attack on one of its sanitary inspectors.

Richard W. Christy pleaded guilty to charges of assault and battery and obstructing the officer in the performance of his duty.

Magistrate J. Herman Sterling imposed $250 fines on each of the charges.

The whole procedure required no more than three minutes and once it was over Christy shook hands with William P. Murray, the health department sanitarian who brought the charges.

Christy gave his written promise there would be no more trouble such as broke out when Murray inspected the Christy oyster plant on July 20.

Carroll S. Brinsfield, director of the health department's Bureau of Food Control in Baltimore, had demanded such a promise. Without it, he said, he would send no more inspectors to Christy's plant. Without an inspection and a certificate that it complied with sanitary regulations, the plant could not operate when the new oyster season opens in September.

Christy pleaded guilty after he and his attorney held a conference with Brinsfield and Murray.

The attorney, Prentiss W Evans, told the court his client regretted the incident.

"We believe the relations between the Department of Health and Mr. Christy from now on will be very cordial," he said. "There is no hostility now."

Housewife Found Dead In Fence She Helped Electrify

BIG STONE GAP, Va., Aug. 5 (AP) —The body of Mrs. Julia Lane, 35, was found today entangled in a fence which she and her husband, Ballard Lane, had electrified to keep boys out of their garden, Wise County Sheriff Harold Fleming reported.

Fleming said Lane told him that a few days ago he and his wife erected a small fence around their garden and charged it with 110 volts of electricity.

Mrs. Lane got up before daybreak today to go to an outhouse, the sheriff related. "Somehow she got entangled in the fence. We also found a dead dog in the fence."

Mail More Important Than Food To Ex-POWs

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Thursday Aug. 6 (AP) —Good food was ready for the returning Allied prisoners here yesterday, but it waited.

A Red Cross worker said the repatriates "ignored the food completely until they read their mail" which had been accumulating here for them for weeks . . .

A guide asked a soldier in the processing line why he had stopped. The soldier pointed to a Red Cross girl and said: "That's the first girl I've seen in 33 months." . . .

Ambulance driver Kenneth Myers, a private first class from Ft. Des Moines, Iowa, fixed up his own little surprise for the repatriates. He filled his canteen with four cans of beer before starting out to pick up returning prisoners at Panmunjom.

His ambulance loaded, he tossed the canteen back to the men and said: "How'd you fellows like some Stateside beer." They liked it. . .

Manager Of Market Fined In Parking Row

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 5 (AP) — Arthur W. Sheets, a district manager of A & P Stores and owner of the controversial lot opposite an A & P supermarket in Hagerstown, was fined $500 and costs today for violation of an injunction banning parking on the lot.

Judge Joseph B. Mish, who imposed the fine, issued an injunction against the parking last September. A petition for the contempt citation was brought by the city.

The area of town in which the supermarket is located is zoned as service and does not permit parking lots. It was zoned after construction of the market.

Judge Mish contended it was obvious Sheets approved use of the lot for parking and welcomed use of it by A & P customers.

Sofia Radio Revives Old Vienna Waltzes

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 5 (AP) — Sofia radio in Red-ruled Bulgaria revived its repertory of Vienna waltzes tonight with some long unused records.

Bulgarian refugees here said it was the first time in years that Sofia has played such old favorites as Johann Strauss' Fruehlingsstimmen (Spring Voices Waltz). They were puzzled over the significance of 15 solid minutes of old Vienna—somewhat thin and scratchy—from Sofia.

Family Of Md. POW Rejoices

LADIESBURG, Md., Aug. 5 (AP)—As other Maryland families hoped today for similar good news, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sayler rejoiced with the word that their son, feared dead, was a war prisoner and has been released.

Their 20-year-old son Hall, an Army infantryman, had been missing in action in Korea since last Nov. 29. He was the first Marylander prisoner released by the Communists since the signing of the armistice.

Since he was reported missing, the family said it had heard nothing of Hall.

Last night they listened to news broadcasts for word of released prisoners but finally gave up because of static caused by a storm.

Minutes after turning off their television set a newspaperman called them with word that Hall was among the 70 Americans released in the first POW exchange since the armistice.

Mrs. Sayler answered the phone. Seconds later, she said, members of the family were hugging each other and shouting for joy.

Said Mrs. Sayler: "It was the greatest thing that ever happened to me in all my life." Sayler said "This makes up for our bad Christmas last year."

Planning Funds Set For Water Projects

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Army engineers today announced 35 flood control, navigation and multiple purpose projects on which it has allocated planning funds for the current fiscal year.

The final version of the Army civil functions bill—signed by President Eisenhower—sets planning funds for the engineers at $1,900,000.

Projects and amounts announced by the engineers today include:

District of Columbia—Anacosita River, $175,000.

Virginia — Gathright & Falling Spring Reservoirs, $40,000.

West Virginia—Hildebrand Lock & Dam, $35,000.

Tennessee — Carthage Dam, $30,000.

Sen. Jenner Repays $12,000 In Disability

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP) —An aide to Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) said today Jenner has repaid to the government $12,000 in disability pay he received after his retirement from the Air Force in World War II.

The repayment was made in June, the aide said.

Jenner suffered an eye ailment and was retired for physical disability in 1944.

A question about his disability pay was raised in the election campaign last year and he asked for a ruling from the General Accounting Office.

GAO held that the pay was illegal because Jenner already was receiving government pay as a senator. He was first elected to the Senate in 1946.

Insurance Agent Gets Prison Term On Fraud Charge

PRINCESS ANNE , Md., Aug. 5 (AP)—Walter E. Lindsay, 26-year-old Salisbury insurance agent and sometime preacher, today pleaded guilty to perpetrating fraud on some of his customers and was sentenced to three years in prison.

The state charged he bilked Somerset countians out of about $1,500 in insurance premiums.

The sentence was imposed by Judge E. McMaster Duer in Somerset County Circuit Court.

Lloyd L. Simpkins, Princess Anne attorney and delegate in Maryland General Assembly, did most of the investigating that unmasked Lindsay.

Simpkins said his suspicions were aroused when several policy holders came to him saying they had paid Lindsay a year's premium but found out their policies covered them only for a month.

Three Injured In 4-Way Crash

BALTIMORE, Aug. 5 (AP) — A Washington couple and their baby girl were hurt and 39 Greyhound bus passengers shaken up today in a four-way crash on alternate U. S. Route 1 just southwest of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lewis, both 24, and their year-old daughter, Mary were thrown from their auto. Their address was listed as 4600 block Asbury Place, N. W., Washington.

The family remained at St. Agnes Hospital for observation after being treated for multiple lacerations.

Baltimore County police at Halethorpe said the Lewis car attempted to pass the bus on the right and as the car moved back into the fast lane its left rear hit the right front section of the bus.

Police said the car then jumped the dividing marker and collided with two southbound cars.

Government Goes Deeper Into Red

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The government slid $2,759,000,000 into the red during July, the first month of the new fiscal year, although it spent 874 millions less than in July 1952.

This, and other details of the government's financial position, were disclosed today in the Treasury's statement for July 31, summing up the government's income, spending and borrowing for the month. The 1954 fiscal year began July 1.

Spending by the government this July amounted to $6,067,572,000 compared with $6,741,775,000 in July 1952.

Receipts were virtually the same for the two months—$3,308,386,000 this July and $3,315,735,000 in July 1952.

Economies in the Post Office Department, and Congress' decision not to keep adding to the civil service retirement fund, accounted for most of the reduction in spending.

No Candidates So No Election

WILLARDS, Md., Aug. 5 (AP) — Willards is going to try again to have an election, in about two weeks.

It was supposed to have one last Monday, but you can't have an election without candidates. The polls at the firehouse weren't even opened.

Here's the situation on the board of town commissioners:

V. D. Truitt resigned sometime ago because of ill health, leaving a vacancy.

William Massey is in poor health, so he decided not to run for re-election.

Walter Layton, the third member, didn't see much point in filing his candidacy when no one else was running.

Massey and Layton continue as the town board.

John E. Jacob, Salisbury attorney who's their legal adviser, suggested they might get out of the dilemma this way:

Layton and Massey will appoint a third member to the board, succeeding Truitt. Then Massey can carry out his intention to resign. Layton and the man who takes Truitt's place can then name a man to take Massey's place.

With the board restored to three members, it can set a new election date.

The commissioners serve two-year terms. There isn't any pay.

Supreme Soviet Meeting

Although the Supreme Soviet of the Soviet Union has only nominal powers, Western observers are awaiting eagerly the dispatches on the August session. The first budget of the Malenkov regime, it was expected, would receive the Supreme Soviet's rubber-stamp approval at this time.

One of the major items in the Russian budget is the appropriation for military expenditures. The proportion of that figure to the whole budget, with similar military-budget ratios in previous years, yields the "most important comprehensive clue to the trend of Soviet armament," according to Harry Schwartz, newspaper and one-time State Department analyst of Russian affairs.

Also, Stalin in the past was wont to make important policy announcements in addresses to sessions of the Supreme Soviet. And it was at the meeting on March 15 of this year that Malenkov, in his "inaugural" address, declared: "There is not one disputed or undecided question that cannot be decided by peaceful means on the basis of mutual understanding of interested countries. That is our attitude toward all states, among them the United States." This was generally interpreted as a go-ahead for a truce settlement in Korea.

Ironically enough, at the session the Supreme Soviet is expected to approve formally the removal of Lavrenti Beria as minister of Internal Affairs. But at the March session it was Beria who nominated Malenkov for premier, describing Malenkov as a "talented pupil of Lenin and a true comrade in arms of Stalin." And Malenkov, in turn, nominated Beria as his first deputy premier, to the standing cheers of the delegates.

"Nominally, all authority in the USSR is derived from the Supreme Soviet, to which the full power of the people is delegated," writes Emil Lengyel of New York University. "This body chooses all the high executive officials and also the members of the Supreme Court. In the interval between its sessions, the legislative work is presumed to be carried on by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet."

Members are nominated by trade unions, local soviets, collective farms, regional and national bodies. Like the U. S. Congress, the Supreme Soviet has two chambers, the Soviet of the Union, corresponding roughly to our House of Representatives, and the Soviet of Nationalities, corresponding to our Senate. There are more than 1,300 delegates.

The Supreme Soviet was established by the "Stalin" Constitution of 1937 to replace the All-Union Congress of Soviets. It is supposed to meet twice a year, but in recent years, except for the present, it has been convened only annually, primarily to approve the budget. Nominally, the Supreme Soviet is subject to recall by the people.

"If nothing else, its (the Supreme Soviet's) size would prevent it from functioning efficiently," according to Lengyel. Real authority is seated in the Politbureau, the Communist party organism. "It is in the Politbureau that the highest-level decisions, which become government policy, are formulated, argued, threshed out, and finally adopted. We know that Lenin, Stalin's predecessor and the leader of the revolution, was outvoted more than once in the Politbureau on important issues. . . . We have had occasional testimony from such topflight statesmen as Winston Churchill that Stalin has had to reverse himself after conferring with his Politbureau colleagues."

Prisoner Exchange

With the prisoner of war exchange under way, it is interesting to explore the whereabouts of U. S. fighting men who are definitely missing, and about whom there is no information.

All told, the exchange will involve 74,000 Allied-held Communists and 12,763 UN troops, of whom 3,313 are Americans and the remainder mostly North Koreans. These figures are as exact as can be determined now.

Getting Communist nations to return POWs is a major problem. Russia notified the UN in October 1951 that it had repatriated all World War II prisoners except those charged with "war crimes." However, as late as last June, West German Chancellor Adenauer told representatives of the Soviet Union that if Russia was sincere about its new "peace" offensive, it could prove it by repatriating 330,000 prisoners still held by the Soviet.

The Japanese insist there are more than 77,000 POWs captured in the Manchurian mop-up at the end of World War II who are still in Russian camps. The most damning charge was filed by the NATO secretariat at Paris in June 1952. The group issued a document stating that of the 2,000,000 Europeans and 800,000 Japs who fell into Soviet hands during World War II, the majority had died in slave labor and that most of the remainder were still captives.

That brings up the discrepancies in Korea. Just prior to the opening of the truce talks in 1951 the Chinese Reds broadcast boastfully that they held 139,000 UN troops. However, when the lists were exchanged at Panmunjom the Communists said they held but 11,559, of whom 4,417 were non-Korean, including 3,198 Americans. The official American casualty figures, as of July 29, showed 2,961 known U. S. prisoners. An additional 8,654 are missing.

This latter figure causes American commanders to suspect the Reds are using the same tactics they used in World War II. Also, with returning Red prisoners giving their captors as hard a time as possible, there may be trouble in the making.

Age Of Air Conditioning

In all parts of the country business buildings, apartment buildings and residences are being air conditioned at a rate that leaves no doubt buildings not so equipped will soon be considered primitive. Landlords with offices and apartments for rent report an increasing demand for air conditioned space by prospective tenants.

Illustrative of the trend is announcement by the Drake Hotel in Chicago that it will completely air condition all its rooms in the next several years. As the management ruefully puts it, air conditioning is really not needed, but the traveling public from other parts of the country expects it and for competitive reasons the installation must be made.

Most new business buildings being erected today have air conditioning built in as a matter of course. Many others are installing the window type units. But it is plain that the country soon will be air conditioned its entire width and length.

Children's Food Requirements

I receive many letters on diet such as, "What should I feed my growing child?". My usual answer is: "Anything and everything provided the daily menus contain the basic foods: meat, eggs, cheese, milk, cereals, fruits, vegetables, and butter or fortified margarine." Such foods offer the minimum requirements of proteins, vitamins, and minerals so vital for this age group.

It is to the advantage of every housewife to learn as much as possible about nutrition because this affords an opportunity to serve a variety and to purchase foods that are high in nutritional value and at the same time in keeping with the family budget. There is not much difference between the needs of children and adults except that youngsters must eat for growth as well as for energy and replacement of worn out tissues. The caloric needs differ, however, because the young are so active. Girls between the ages of 13 and 18, for example, require 2,400 to 2,800 calories daily and boys of approximately the same age should consume 3,000 to 4,000.

Foods usually are classified according to their protein, carbohydrate, fat, mineral, and vitamin content. Protein is one of the most important elements so far as children are concerned because it plays a star role in the growth of body organs and tissues. Foods containing a predominance of protein are meats such as beef, pork, ham, and chicken, as well as fish, milk, cheese, and eggs. Moreover, these items also furnish large amounts of minerals such as iron. Protein is found also in beans, potatoes, and bread. Carbohydrates (starches and sugars) are of value principally because they supply energy and are in demand because of their lower cost and good taste. In most diets, they yield more than 50 per cent of the total number of calories. Potatoes, vegetables, fruits, breads, cereals, and sugars are typical of this group. Parents should use ample carobydrates in the diet but it is advisable to watch the child carefully lest he fill up on them and omit proteins, minerals, and vitamins.

To avoid misunderstanding, it is well to know that many carbohydrates also provide other essentials. Bread and potatoes, listed above as containing protein, also have a preponderance of carbohydrates and a slice of whole grain or enriched bread will give iron, calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin B in addition. Many of these foods are fortified with vitamins to enhance their nutritional value.

Fat is the third member of the triad. It supplies energy which, if not needed at the moment, is stored in the tissues for future use. Butter, margarine, lard, vegetable oils, cream, bacon, and nuts are rich in this substance. Avocados and olives are the only fruits that contain an appreciable amount of fat. Mackerel and salmon are among the fat representatives from the fish kingdom. Many meats are a source of fat, which increases their palatability.

TINGLING ARM

C. V. writes: What causes a pins and needles sensation in the right arm from elbow to fingertips?

REPLY

All we can say about these baths is: no good, no harm.

FESTERED SLIVERS

E. W. writes: I'm a woodworker, and unless I remove slivers from my hands immediately they start festering. Is this a sign of bad blood?

REPLY

No; if anything, it means that your body is alert and capable of dealing normally with such intruders. Festering is nature's way of helping the body eliminate slivers and allied foreign bodies.

IT'S CONTAGIOUS

Mrs. D. W. writes: My sister's daughter has ringworm of the scalp and she wants me to bring my children to a party she is giving for her youngster. Her doctor said the condition is contagious but she is quite put out because I won't go. Would you advise me to expose my youngster to ringworm?

REPLY

No. Your sister's physician knows more about this infection than your sister does and she ought to be guided by his advice.

Berlin Food Program Has Given Russia Its Worst Setback; Feeding East Germans Is Drop In Bucket Compared With Problem Behind Curtain

WASHINGTON — Much more than the American people realize, the prisoner world behind the iron curtain is watching the food riots in East Germany. Also, more than the American people realize, the Eisenhower administration has been holding backstage debates regarding the next step to be taken in East Germany.

So far there's been no decision. Two facts, however, are fairly clear:

No. 1—The East German food program is only a drop in the bucket compared with what needs to be done in all the vast and restless area behind the iron curtain.

No. 2—The Eisenhower administration was elected on a platform of stirring up revolt behind the iron curtain. So vigorously did Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles emphasize this during the political campaign that Adlai Stevenson publicly chided them.

Once in office, however, the Eisenhower administration has been bothered by doubting Thomases, do-nothing advisers, has moved with exasperating caution.

First Food Proposal

The present food program for East Germany was proposed by this writer to certain State Department officials on June 23, shortly after the Berlin riots started. Some officials were enthusiastic, some dubious.

"If the Russians won't let our surplus bread and butter enter East Germany," it was proposed in one column, "then the American radio station in Berlin, RIAS, can put them on the spot by blaring the fact behind the iron curtain.

"All we have to do is put the bread and butter down in West Berlin and let the East Germans come and get it. Several thousand cross back and forth every day. I have crossed back and forth dozens of times . . ."

This has now worked out exactly as predicted. Though it took three weeks of backstage debate, press and radio comment, this idea has now given the Kremlin its worst setback since the end of the war. As stated in a column of June 30, "If our millions of tons of surplus food were used appropriately in Berlin, the effect on the Russians would be devastating . . . If the Russians refused they would be more on the spot than ever."

The Russians did refuse Eisenhower's offer of July 10 and they are now on the spot in a manner which has lost them more prestige than any other single move we have made.

Our Next Moves

Desperate, the Russians are now blocking food distribution. And the question is, what is our next move to be?

Here are a few suggestions:

1. Drop food by balloon in the rest of East Germany. If Red tanks and troops continue to block the East Germans, give them a spectacular demonstration of Yankee ingenuity by dropping food parcels at their front door. The God-given winds of the upper altitudes which move from West to East are with us in regard to this—and this is something the Kremlin can't change. We should use them.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce executive committee, meeting last week at Tulsa, Okla., offered to take over this friendship balloon food lift if the State Department had no objections.

2. Repeat the food program in other areas behind the iron curtain. Vienna, like Berlin, is divided into sectors, so that people can cross over from one zone to another. A similar program in Vienna would have the same electrifying result in Southern Europe that the Berlin program is having in Northern Europe.

3. Send food by balloon to other iron curtain countries which are not near Berlin and Vienna. Food by balloons is a little more expensive, but intensely dramatic—and drama is needed to win the cold war. Furthermore, Poland, Czechoslovakia and other satellite countries were invaded by Germany, don't particularly love the Germans, and don't like to see us favoring the German people. For us to concentrate on helping Germany alone would be a serious psychological error.

4. Demand that free elections be held in every iron curtain country. In a formal note to Moscow we should emphasize the fact that the Yalta Pact gives these nations the right of governments of their own choosing and we should demand that the United Nations supervise free elections. Yalta has been used against us in many respects. We should not be so slow about using it to our advantage.

This is one of our biggest aces-in-the-hole, and so far we have completely missed the boat.

5. Move for a United States of Europe. Most Europeans know they are doomed both economically and militarily if they remain small, divided, independent countries. The only way they can exist is to emulate our example and unite.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — All those persons who have been denouncing congressional committee investigations and their procedures may be shocked to learn that the biggest tax scandal in recent years has just been exposed by a subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The episode happened in 1948. For more than four years, the regular departments and agencies of the executive branch of the government had every opportunity to uncover the affair and to punish anyone guilty of wrongdoing. Why didn't they do it? Perhaps because no such information came to them as now has been furnished to the congressional committees which are investigating the tax scandals under the Truman administration.

Why wasn't such information made available? Perhaps because the Democratic National Committee headquarters was itself implicated and federal employes as a rule don't go around getting into trouble with the headquarters of the party in power.

Told Whole Story

The facts are startling: Welburn S. Mayock, who says he was counsel to the Democratic National committee in 1948, is an attorney here with a practice in tax cases. He was revealed on Monday before the House committee as having been paid $65,000 in cash by William S. Lasdon, a drug manufacturer whose own attorneys had told him that they couldn't persuade the Bureau of Internal Revenue to give him a favorable ruling and that he had better abandon his efforts to derive a benefit amounting to $1,000,000 or more.

Then came a couple of New York men who steered Lasdon to Mayock in July 1948. By September 1948 Mayock had gotten a favorable ruling through the intercession of high Treasury officials.

Mayock tells with amazing frankness what he did with the money. He might have claimed immunity under the Fifth Amendment on the ground that his testimony might incriminate him—for it is evident that some of the laws relating to campaign contributions may have been violated by him. Courageously Mayock told the whole story.

Out of the $65,000, a contribution of $30,000 was given to the Democratic national campaign fund to help elect Truman. Mayock says the party needed funds badly. He says he knew it was illegal for an individual to donate $30,000 to a presidential campaign fund, so he arranged to split it into sums of $3,000 and he arranged for individuals to contribute equal amounts. Then he reimbursed them out of his $30,000 fund. Actually, that's a common practice in politics. It is illegal, but seldom are the offenders caught at it because usually it occurs through gifts within one's own family.

Not Common Practice

What isn't common practice, however, is for a lawyer to take a case before the Treasury Department and then ask for payment in cash from his client for as large a sum as $65,000 so there would be no record of a transaction by check. Also, it is not common practice for tax cases to be expedited to settlement unless some important influence is exerted. The merits of the issues in the tax case are matters that tax lawyers or judges would have to decide. But it does seem strange that conclusions reached by the technical staff of the Bureau of Internal Revenue were reversed even though they had been accepted as probably correct by the client's regular lawyers, who didn't see fit to take it to the U. S. Tax Court. They could have filed an appeal if they thought they had a good case.

But Lasdon said he was told how to get a favorable settlement, and he paid the money to the lawyer in Washington who had the influence to get something done that his own attorneys couldn't accomplish.

The whole affair smells bad. Explanations will have to be forthcoming from all who were directly or indirectly concerned. What better way, therefore, is there to check on the operations of the executive branch of the government and its employes than by congressional committees? That's the traditional American way, and it will be a sad day for honest government and for the welfare of the American people if the power of investigating committees is impaired either by hamstringing rules or by the sabotaging tactics of an obstructionist minority which could protect a previous administration from being investigated simply by refusing to allow the majority to function.

In Retrospect

In 1947, I believe it was, Robert and Martha Taft came up to my farm in the Berkshires on their way to Murray Bay. We got into the usual discussion of his candidacy for the presidency. I laid it on the line honestly, pulling no punches, covering no facts by the politness of hospitality. The essence of my statement was that he refused to do anything to recognize the lust of the populace for glamorous personalities, the preferences of many for expediencies rather than for adherence to moral principles. I cited example after example of his avoidance of political expediences that would have made it possible to reach the White House and then he could do as he pleased. I said to him then that his opponent, Thomas E. Dewey, is a master of temporizing.

Taft exploded in anger. "I will not do it! I will not do it!" he shouted. "When I am wrong, I admit it. When I make a mistake, I say so out in public. But I shall not cheapen myself for any office."

And he never did. It is astonishing how often the opportunity was offered Taft to make the kind of compromise that gets a man ahead but soils his soul. That is why the businessmen turned from Taft to Eisenhower in 1951, when they made excursions to Paris to look over the new man that Thomas E. Dewey had brought into the arena. They said that Taft was mulish.

I remember having quite a row one night with a group of big industrialists, some of whom are now whispering, "Ike isn't what we thought he was." Of course, he is not; nobody could be. These businessmen who financed the effort against Taft for the 1952 convention wanted a President who would be their President, their man, as William McKinley was Mark Hanna's man. They dislike independence and Taft was nobody's foreman. In spite of the fact that Bob Taft and Harry Byrd had saved the necks of these businessmen dozens of times, they turned on Taft.

Their excuse was that he could not be elected. Dewey had had two chances and was defeated both times. What was really feared was not that Taft could not be elected but that he would be absolutely independent. That is why they called him "mulish." His knowledge was so immense, his memory of fact and statistics so sure that when many of these businessmen and their lawyers tried to argue with him, they sounded like children in the presence of a great teacher. They did not like that.

When, during the 1952 convention, man after man who had been pledged to him had to change his position for personal reasons, Taft seemed always to understand that some men put bread and butter above convictions; there was no bitterness, no rancor, no recriminations. When some people who had supported his campaign deserted him, he assumed that men of expediency would always follow the rising star.

Bob Taft never for a moment tolerated bigotry of any kind. Some of his friends would tell him that the Jews of this country supported Roosevelt; yet, he, Bob Taft, had been pro-Zionist since his youth. He told me that his support or opposition to movements had to be unrelated to personal advantage. He was deeply impressed by the fact that his father had abrogated a treaty with Russia because of the persecution of the Jews. Thus, the Jewish question came early into his life. He took his stand on a Jewish homeland in Palestine before he entered politics.

His objectivity proved costly to Taft as a politician. His protest against the Nuremberg trials paved the way for opponents to attack him and smear his reputation. Yet, he knew that he was right and events have proved his position to have been right. Similarly, many of his early assumptions concerning our foreign policy have since proved to have been correct.

Logic is not too highly prized in politics and the logical person is often not the most popular man. Bob Taft never tried to become popular at the price of logic.

Yet those who knew him intimately stuck by him through every defeat. In the formation of the Republican - Southern Democratic coalition, he displayed the highest qualities of statesmanship, for without it, the Congress might have fallen into the pitfalls of a one-party operation.

Matter Of Fact

The Reign Of Stupidity

BONN

This city is a peculiarly depressing place, and for a peculiarly American reason. It is odd that this should be so. There is an almost unbelievable contrast between the bustling prosperity of Western Germany, and the weary, angry stagnation of the Soviet zone, which is so visible from Berlin.

Logically, this contrast should fill Americans with renewed confidence in the future. Yet one very soon realizes that Americans here are, instead, rapidly losing their confidence in themselves and their country. This in turn has led to a sort of paralysis where the great issues of policy are concerned, for people who have lost their confidence naturally tend to substitute dogma for policy and the official line for serious, original thought.

The chief policy advisers here were until recently three very able professional foreign service officers—John Davies, Charles Thayer, and Samuel Reber. As one official remarked, "They held the whole thing together." Now all three are gone, at least two of them victims of McLeodism, the State Department's dutiful imitation of McCarthyism. There have been, of course, plenty of other victims-designate, some well known, others purged under cover of the reduction-in-force program, others still waiting for the axe to fall.

No Buchenwald Here

It is hardly surprising that the survivors have adopted "Don't stick your neck out" as their guiding rule. The Germans, of course, derive a special pleasure from talking about the "American Gestapo," and from comparing America today with Germany 20 years ago. This is nonsense. There is no Buchenwald for American officials who have incurred official disfavor. Instead, there is a steady pressure for dull conformity, in an oddly ridiculous atmosphere of cloak-and-dagger. The flavor of this atmosphere is best conveyed by the sort of minor incident which has become the small change of private conversation among Americans here.

There was, for example, the official who happened to step out on his balcony, and saw a shadowy figure clamboring over the railing. He called in the German couple who serve him, and asked who this mysterious intruder might be. They replied calmly that it was doubtless the American Secret Service fellow who had several times interrogated them about the official's dinner table conversation and other aspects of his private life.

Or there was the series of secret interrogations to discover the identity of those who attended the farewell party for Theodore Kaghan, the able public affairs official who was one of the State Department's recent blood sacrifices to Senator McCarthy. What made this investigation silly was the fact that the party was attended by High Commissioner James B. Conant himself. What made it even sillier was the further fact that the busy gumshoes needed only to telephone the public affairs division, which had arranged the party, to obtain a complete list of those present.

Conant's Support Coming

What is going on here, in short, is less a reign of terror than a reign of stupidity. One official recently received a "suitability report" on an able subordinate. The "derogatory information" in this report consisted entirely of the charge that the subordinate was "super-democratic" and "intellectually curious." Stupid and silly as this sort of thing seems, it has its deadly serious side.

"Take this matter of food shipments to East Germany," remarked one responsible official. "If I'd been all for it, I could have been roasted alive for wanting to send food to a lot of Communists. If I'd been all against it, I could have been roasted alive for opposing a great psychological stroke against the Communists. So in the end I said nothing." When a past error of political judgement can be interpreted as disloyalty (as in the case of John Davies) saying nothing becomes, obviously, the better part of wisdom. And when stupidity reigns, bold, imaginative policy-making is hardly to be expected.

A serious effort is now being made, it should be said, to end the reign of stupidity. Stringent orders have been issued limiting such practices as wire-tapping, and the use of German nationals as informers against American officials. More important, High Commissioner Conant after a natural initial period of uncertainty, has let it be known that he is prepared to back loyal subordinates to the hilt.

Yet an almost incalculable amount of damage has already been done. The United States has been made to look ridiculous by such incidents as the book-burning mess and the Cohn-Schine spy-hunt. Many of the abler officials have been eliminated or disgraced, and others are thinking seriously of leaving before they meet the same fate. In a reign of stupidity, the safely stupid flourish, and the key positions here are beginning to fill up with amiable nonentities.

What is almost worst of all, the old, easy, free-spoken, free-wheeling confidence in themselves and their country, which used to mark Americans off from all others, and which always impressed and encouraged the American traveling in Europe, is almost gone now. One sometimes wonders what a Hiss, or a Fuchs, or a Rosenberg could have done to harm America more.

Supreme Soviet Meeting

Although the Supreme Soviet of the Soviet Union has only nominal powers, Western observers are awaiting eagerly the dispatches on the August session. The first budget of the Malenkov regime, it was expected, would receive the Supreme Soviet's rubber-stamp approval at this time.

One of the major items in the Russian budget is the appropriation for military expenditures. The proportion of that figure to the whole budget, with similar military-budget ratios in previous years, yields the "most important comprehensive clue to the trend of Soviet armament," according to Harry Schwartz, newspaper and one-time State Department analyst of Russian affairs.

Also, Stalin in the past was wont to make important policy announcements in addresses to sessions of the Supreme Soviet. And it was at the meeting on March 15 of this year that Malenkov, in his "inaugural" address, declared: "There is not one disputed or undecided question that cannot be decided by peaceful means on the basis of mutual understanding of interested countries. That is our attitude toward all states, among them the United States." This was generally interpreted as a go-ahead for a truce settlement in Korea.

Ironically enough, at the session the Supreme Soviet is expected to approve formally the removal of Lavrenti Beria as minister of Internal Affairs. But at the March session it was Beria who nominated Malenkov for premier, describing Malenkov as a "talented pupil of Lenin and a true comrade in arms of Stalin." And Malenkov, in turn, nominated Beria as his first deputy premier, to the standing cheers of the delegates.

"Nominally, all authority in the USSR is derived from the Supreme Soviet, to which the full power of the people is delegated," writes Emil Lengyel of New York University. "This body chooses all the high executive officials and also the members of the Supreme Court. In the interval between its sessions, the legislative work is presumed to be carried on by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet."

Members are nominated by trade unions, local soviets, collective farms, regional and national bodies. Like the U. S. Congress, the Supreme Soviet has two chambers, the Soviet of the Union, corresponding roughly to our House of Representatives, and the Soviet of Nationalities, corresponding to our Senate. There are more than 1,300 delegates.

The Supreme Soviet was established by the "Stalin" Constitution of 1937 to replace the All-Union Congress of Soviets. It is supposed to meet twice a year, but in recent years, except for the present, it has been convened only annually, primarily to approve the budget. Nominally, the Supreme Soviet is subject to recall by the people.

"If nothing else, its (the Supreme Soviet's) size would prevent it from functioning efficiently," according to Lengyel. Real authority is seated in the Politbureau, the Communist party organism. "It is in the Politbureau that the highest-level decisions, which become government policy, are formulated, argued, threshed out, and finally adopted. We know that Lenin, Stalin's predecessor and the leader of the revolution, was outvoted more than once in the Politbureau on important issues. . . . We have had occasional testimony from such topflight statesmen as Winston Churchill that Stalin has had to reverse himself after conferring with his Politbureau colleagues."

Prisoner Exchange

With the prisoner of war exchange under way, it is interesting to explore the whereabouts of U. S. fighting men who are definitely missing, and about whom there is no information.

All told, the exchange will involve 74,000 Allied-held Communists and 12,763 UN troops, of whom 3,313 are Americans and the remainder mostly North Koreans. These figures are as exact as can be determined now.

Getting Communist nations to return POWs is a major problem. Russia notified the UN in October 1951 that it had repatriated all World War II prisoners except those charged with "war crimes." However, as late as last June, West German Chancellor Adenauer told representatives of the Soviet Union that if Russia was sincere about its new "peace" offensive, it could prove it by repatriating 330,000 prisoners still held by the Soviet.

The Japanese insist there are more than 77,000 POWs captured in the Manchurian mop-up at the end of World War II who are still in Russian camps. The most damning charge was filed by the NATO secretariat at Paris in June 1952. The group issued a document stating that of the 2,000,000 Europeans and 800,000 Japs who fell into Soviet hands during World War II, the majority had died in slave labor and that most of the remainder were still captives.

That brings up the discrepancies in Korea. Just prior to the opening of the truce talks in 1951 the Chinese Reds broadcast boastfully that they held 139,000 UN troops. However, when the lists were exchanged at Panmunjom the Communists said they held but 11,559, of whom 4,417 were non-Korean, including 3,198 Americans. The official American casualty figures, as of July 29, showed 2,961 known U. S. prisoners. An additional 8,654 are missing.

This latter figure causes American commanders to suspect the Reds are using the same tactics they used in World War II. Also, with returning Red prisoners giving their captors as hard a time as possible, there may be trouble in the making.

Age Of Air Conditioning

In all parts of the country business buildings, apartment buildings and residences are being air conditioned at a rate that leaves no doubt buildings not so equipped will soon be considered primitive. Landlords with offices and apartments for rent report an increasing demand for air conditioned space by prospective tenants.

Illustrative of the trend is announcement by the Drake Hotel in Chicago that it will completely air condition all its rooms in the next several years. As the management ruefully puts it, air conditioning is really not needed, but the traveling public from other parts of the country expects it and for competitive reasons the installation must be made.

Most new business buildings being erected today have air conditioning built in as a matter of course. Many others are installing the window type units. But it is plain that the country soon will be air conditioned its entire width and length.

How To Keep Well

Children's Food Requirements

I receive many letters on diet such as, "What should I feed my growing child?". My usual answer is: "Anything and everything provided the daily menus contain the basic foods: meat, eggs, cheese, milk, cereals, fruits, vegetables, and butter or fortified margarine." Such foods offer the minimum requirements of proteins, vitamins, and minerals so vital for this age group.

It is to the advantage of every housewife to learn as much as possible about nutrition because this affords an opportunity to serve a variety and to purchase foods that are high in nutritional value and at the same time in keeping with the family budget. There is not much difference between the needs of children and adults except that youngsters must eat for growth as well as for energy and replacement of worn out tissues. The caloric needs differ, however, because the young are so active. Girls between the ages of 13 and 18, for example, require 2,400 to 2,800 calories daily and boys of approximately the same age should consume 3,000 to 4,000.

Foods usually are classified according to their protein, carbohydrate, fat, mineral, and vitamin content. Protein is one of the most important elements so far as children are concerned because it plays a star role in the growth of body organs and tissues. Foods containing a predominance of protein are meats such as beef, pork, ham, and chicken, as well as fish, milk, cheese, and eggs. Moreover, these items also furnish large amounts of minerals such as iron. Protein is found also in beans, potatoes, and bread. Carbohydrates (starches and sugars) are of value principally because they supply energy and are in demand because of their lower cost and good taste. In most diets, they yield more than 50 per cent of the total number of calories. Potatoes, vegetables, fruits, breads, cereals, and sugars are typical of this group. Parents should use ample carobydrates in the diet but it is advisable to watch the child carefully lest he fill up on them and omit proteins, minerals, and vitamins.

To avoid misunderstanding, it is well to know that many carbohydrates also provide other essentials. Bread and potatoes, listed above as containing protein, also have a preponderance of carbohydrates and a slice of whole grain or enriched bread will give iron, calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin B in addition. Many of these foods are fortified with vitamins to enhance their nutritional value.

Fat is the third member of the triad. It supplies energy which, if not needed at the moment, is stored in the tissues for future use. Butter, margarine, lard, vegetable oils, cream, bacon, and nuts are rich in this substance. Avocados and olives are the only fruits that contain an appreciable amount of fat. Mackerel and salmon are among the fat representatives from the fish kingdom. Many meats are a source of fat, which increases their palatability.

WEAK BONES

F. D. writes: What would cause osteoporosis of all bony structures of the body?

REPLY

Bones soften as a result of injury, disuse, malnutrition, or a disturbance of circulation. Senile osteoporosis is thought to be related to a dwindling supply of sex hormones. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on osteoporosis.

TINGLING ARM

C. V. writes: What causes a pins and needles sensation in the right arm from elbow to fingertips?

REPLY

SODA BATHS

S. D. writes: Are washing soda baths good for arthritis?

REPLY

All we can say about these baths is: no good, no harm.

FESTERED SLIVERS

E. W. writes: I'm a woodworker, and unless I remove slivers from my hands immediately they start festering. Is this a sign of bad blood?

REPLY

No; if anything, it means that your body is alert and capable of dealing normally with such intruders. Festering is nature's way of helping the body eliminate slivers and allied foreign bodies.

IT'S CONTAGIOUS

Mrs. D. W. writes: My sister's daughter has ringworm of the scalp and she wants me to bring my children to a party she is giving for her youngster. Her doctor said the condition is contagious but she is quite put out because I won't go. Would you advise me to expose my youngster to ringworm?

REPLY

No. Your sister's physician knows more about this infection than your sister does and she ought to be guided by his advice.

Berlin Food Program Has Given Russia Its Worst Setback; Feeding East Germans Is Drop In Bucket Compared With Problem Behind Curtain

WASHINGTON — Much more than the American people realize, the prisoner world behind the iron curtain is watching the food riots in East Germany. Also, more than the American people realize, the Eisenhower administration has been holding backstage debates regarding the next step to be taken in East Germany.

So far there's been no decision.

Two facts, however, are fairly clear:

No. 1—The East German food program is only a drop in the bucket compared with what needs to be done in all the vast and restless area behind the iron curtain.

No. 2—The Eisenhower administration was elected on a platform of stirring up revolt behind the iron curtain. So vigorously did Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles emphasize this during the political campaign that Adlai Stevenson publicly chided them.

Once in office, however, the Eisenhower administration has been bothered by doubting Thomases, do-nothing advisers, has moved with exasperating caution.

First Food Proposal

The present food program for East Germany was proposed by this writer to certain State Department officials on June 23, shortly after the Berlin riots started. Some officials were enthusiastic, some dubious.

"If the Russians won't let our surplus bread and butter enter East Germany," it was proposed in one column, "then the American radio station in Berlin, RIAS, can put them on the spot by blaring the fact behind the iron curtain.

"All we have to do is put the bread and butter down in West Berlin and let the East Germans come and get it. Several thousand cross back and forth every day. I have crossed back and forth dozens of times . . ."

This has now worked out exactly as predicted. Though it took three weeks of backstage debate, press and radio comment, this idea has now given the Kremlin its worst setback since the end of the war. As stated in a column of June 30, "If our millions of tons of surplus food were used appropriately in Berlin, the effect on the Russians would be devastating . . . If the Russians refused they would be more on the spot than ever."

The Russians did refuse Eisenhower's offer of July 10 and they are now on the spot in a manner which has lost them more prestige than any other single move we have made.

Our Next Moves

Desperate, the Russians are now blocking food distribution. And the question is, what is our next move to be?

Here are a few suggestions:

1. Drop food by balloon in the rest of East Germany. If Red tanks and troops continue to block the East Germans, give them a spectacular demonstration of Yankee ingenuity by dropping food parcels at their front door. The God-given winds of the upper altitudes which move from West to East are with us in regard to this—and this is something the Kremlin can't change. We should use them.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce executive committee, meeting last week at Tulsa, Okla., offered to take over this friendship balloon food lift if the State Department had no objections.

2. Repeat the food program in other areas behind the iron curtain. Vienna, like Berlin, is divided into sectors, so that people can cross over from one zone to another. A similar program in Vienna would have the same electrifying result in Southern Europe that the Berlin program is having in Northern Europe.

3. Send food by balloon to other iron curtain countries which are not near Berlin and Vienna. Food by balloons is a little more expensive, but intensely dramatic—and drama is needed to win the cold war. Furthermore, Poland, Czechoslovakia and other satellite countries were invaded by Germany, don't particularly love the Germans, and don't like to see us favoring the German people. For us to concentrate on helping Germany alone would be a serious psychological error.

4. Demand that free elections be held in every iron curtain country. In a formal note to Moscow we should emphasize the fact that the Yalta Pact gives these nations the right of governments of their own choosing and we should demand that the United Nations supervise free elections. Yalta has been used against us in many respects. We should not be so slow about using it to our advantage.

This is one of our biggest aces-in-the-hole, and so far we have completely missed the boat.

5. Move for a United States of Europe. Most Europeans know they are doomed both economically and militarily if they remain small, divided, independent countries. The only way they can exist is to emulate our example and unite.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — All those persons who have been denouncing congressional committee investigations and their procedures may be shocked to learn that the biggest tax scandal in recent years has just been exposed by a subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The episode happened in 1948. For more than four years, the regular departments and agencies of the executive branch of the government had every opportunity to uncover the affair and to punish anyone guilty of wrongdoing. Why didn't they do it? Perhaps because no such information came to them as now has been furnished to the congressional committees which are investigating the tax scandals under the Truman administration.

Why wasn't such information made available? Perhaps because the Democratic National Committee headquarters was itself implicated and federal employes as a rule don't go around getting into trouble with the headquarters of the party in power.

Told Whole Story

The facts are startling: Welburn S. Mayock, who says he was counsel to the Democratic National committee in 1948, is an attorney here with a practice in tax cases. He was revealed on Monday before the House committee as having been paid $65,000 in cash by William S. Lasdon, a drug manufacturer whose own attorneys had told him that they couldn't persuade the Bureau of Internal Revenue to give him a favorable ruling and that he had better abandon his efforts to derive a benefit amounting to $1,000,000 or more.

Then came a couple of New York men who steered Lasdon to Mayock in July 1948. By September 1948 Mayock had gotten a favorable ruling through the intercession of high Treasury officials.

Mayock tells with amazing frankness what he did with the money. He might have claimed immunity under the Fifth Amendment on the ground that his testimony might incriminate him—for it is evident that some of the laws relating to campaign contributions may have been violated by him. Courageously Mayock told the whole story.

Out of the $65,000, a contribution of $30,000 was given to the Democratic national campaign fund to help elect Truman. Mayock says the party needed funds badly. He says he knew it was illegal for an individual to donate $30,000 to a presidential campaign fund, so he arranged to split it into sums of $3,000 and he arranged for individuals to contribute equal amounts. Then he reimbursed them out of his $30,000 fund. Actually, that's a common practice in politics. It is illegal, but seldom are the offenders caught at it because usually it occurs through gifts within one's own family.

Not Common Practice

What isn't common practice, however, is for a lawyer to take a case before the Treasury Department and then ask for payment in cash from his client for as large a sum as $65,000 so there would be no record of a transaction by check. Also, it is not common practice for tax cases to be expedited to settlement unless some important influence is exerted. The merits of the issues in the tax case are matters that tax lawyers or judges would have to decide. But it does seem strange that conclusions reached by the technical staff of the Bureau of Internal Revenue were reversed even though they had been accepted as probably correct by the client's regular lawyers, who didn't see fit to take it to the U. S. Tax Court. They could have filed an appeal if they thought they had a good case.

But Lasdon said he was told how to get a favorable settlement, and he paid the money to the lawyer in Washington who had the influence to get something done that his own attorneys couldn't accomplish.

The whole affair smells bad. Explanations will have to be forthcoming from all who were directly or indirectly concerned. What better way, therefore, is there to check on the operations of the executive branch of the government and its employes than by congressional committees? That's the traditional American way, and it will be a sad day for honest government and for the welfare of the American people if the power of investigating committees is impaired either by hamstringing rules or by the sabotaging tactics of an obstructionist minority which could protect a previous administration from being investigated simply by refusing to allow the majority to function.

Logic is not too highly prized in politics and the logical person is often not the most popular man. Bob Taft never tried to become popular at the price of logic.

Yet those who knew him intimately stuck by him through every defeat. In the formation of the Republican - Southern Democratic coalition, he displayed the highest qualities of statesmanship, for without it, the Congress might have fallen into the pitfalls of a one-party operation.

Matter Of Fact

BONN

This city is a peculiarly depressing place, and for a peculiarly American reason. It is odd that this should be so. There is an almost unbelievable contrast between the bustling prosperity of Western Germany, and the weary, angry stagnation of the Soviet zone, which is so visible from Berlin.

Logically, this contrast should fill Americans with renewed confidence in the future. Yet one very soon realizes that Americans here are, instead, rapidly losing their confidence in themselves and their country. This in turn has led to a sort of paralysis where the great issues of policy are concerned, for people who have lost their confidence naturally tend to substitute dogma for policy and the official line for serious, original thought.

The chief policy advisers here were until recently three very able professional foreign service officers—John Davies, Charles Thayer, and Samuel Reber. As one official remarked, "They held the whole thing together." Now all three are gone, at least two of them victims of McLeodism, the State Department's dutiful imitation of McCarthyism. There have been, of course, plenty of other victims-designate, some well known, others purged under cover of the reduction-in-force program, others still waiting for the axe to fall.

No Buchenwald Here

It is hardly surprising that the survivors have adopted "Don't stick your neck out" as their guiding rule. The Germans, of course, derive a special pleasure from talking about the "American Gestapo," and from comparing America today with Germany 20 years ago. This is nonsense. There is no Buchenwald for American officials who have incurred official disfavor. Instead, there is a steady pressure for dull conformity, in an oddly ridiculous atmosphere of cloak-and-dagger. The flavor of this atmosphere is best conveyed by the sort of minor incident which has become the small change of private conversation among Americans here.

There was, for example, the official who happened to step out on his balcony, and saw a shadowy figure clamboring over the railing. He called in the German couple who serve him, and asked who this mysterious intruder might be. They replied calmly that it was doubtless the American Secret Service fellow who had several times interrogated them about the official's dinner table conversation and other aspects of his private life.

Or there was the series of secret interrogations to discover the identity of those who attended the farewell party for Theodore Kaghan, the able public affairs official who was one of the State Department's recent blood sacrifices to Senator McCarthy. What made this investigation silly was the fact that the party was attended by High Commissioner James B. Conant himself. What made it even sillier was the further fact that the busy gumshoes needed only to telephone the public affairs division, which had arranged the party, to obtain a complete list of those present.

Conant's Support Coming

What is going on here, in short, is less a reign of terror than a reign of stupidity. One official recently received a "suitability report" on an able subordinate. The "derogatory information" in this report consisted entirely of the charge that the subordinate was "super-democratic" and "intellectually curious." Stupid and silly as this sort of thing seems, it has its deadly serious side.

"Take this matter of food shipments to East Germany," remarked one responsible official. "If I'd been all for it, I could have been roasted alive for wanting to send food to a lot of Communists. If I'd been all against it, I could have been roasted alive for opposing a great psychological stroke against the Communists. So in the end I said nothing." When a past error of political judgement can be interpreted as disloyalty (as in the case of John Davies) saying nothing becomes, obviously, the better part of wisdom. And when stupidity reigns, bold, imaginative policy-making is hardly to be expected.

A serious effort is now being made, it should be said, to end the reign of stupidity. Stringent orders have been issued limiting such practices as wire-tapping, and the use of German nationals as informers against American officials. More important, High Commissioner Conant after a natural initial period of uncertainty, has let it be known that he is prepared to back loyal subordinates to the hilt.

Yet an almost incalculable amount of damage has already been done. The United States has been made to look ridiculous by such incidents as the book-burning mess and the Cohn-Schine spy-hunt. Many of the abler officials have been eliminated or disgraced, and others are thinking seriously of leaving before they meet the same fate. In a reign of stupidity, the safely stupid flourish, and the key positions here are beginning to fill up with amiable nonentities.

What is almost worst of all, the old, easy, free-spoken, free-wheeling confidence in themselves and their country, which used to mark Americans off from all others, and which always impressed and encouraged the American traveling in Europe, is almost gone now. One sometimes wonders what a Hiss, or a Fuchs, or a Rosenberg could have done to harm America more.

Along The Potomac

by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON—No single piece of legislation in this session of Congress was so distasteful to me as the bill to increase the national debt limit.

I voted for it because it has to be done. I am shocked—and I hope every citizen is shocked—by the need for it.

The new administration could not revoke the spending commitments of the old one. The old administration incorrectly predicted the government's income. The Eisenhower administration, however, has kept faith with us and met the problem head on. The budget which President Truman left behind him has been chopped $13 billion.

But still the difference must be made up by borrowing more money. Unless this is done, the government cannot pay its bills and salaries and pensions.

Our debt stands at $272 billion. Its legal limit was $275 billion. We have only six per cent of the world's population in America, but our debt is $65 billion bigger than the national debts of all the other 94 per cent of the people in the world put together. Some people may think we are wealthy enough to stand it, but the incomes of those other 94 per cent of the people exceed ours by about $179 billion.

It's just as though the mortgage on your house is one-fourth larger than the man's next door, but your income is one-third smaller than his.

When a government goes broke, it sells more bonds to banks. It spends the proceeds. But banks use the bonds as reserves and lend more money to their customers. The people take this money to buy what they need. With so much money circulating, and only so much goods to go around, prices go up. A loaf of bread that used to cost a dime costs 20 cents. Twenty cents, therefore, is actually worth only a dime. That, exactly, is what inflation is.

The worse inflation becomes, the more the government has to try to control it. At the end of that road lies socialism. There are people in this country—even in Congress — who think s o c i a l i s m wouldn't be so bad. The job for the vast majority of us who hate it is to stick together and fight it with all our strength.

Those whose high taxes are a burden must be patient. Those who may sell a little less of their products to the government must accept it. And those who may lose their jobs when the government tries to economize must find work in private enterprise. In other words, to lick inflation and get the U. S. Treasury's books back into balance, everyone must resolve to be his own policeman.

I want to add just a word to the thousands of tributes to the late Senator Robert Taft. His memory will always remain in the halls of Congress, and his integrity and honesty will always be a model to those who endeavor to serve their country in public life.

Annual Elks Picnic Is Planned Sunday

The annual BPO Elks picnic is set for Sunday at Fairgo from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m., Richard Wilkinson, publicity chairman, announced today.

Admission this year is a paid-up membership card with wives, and out-of-town guests being invited along with members of Bedford and Frostburg lodges. Parents have been asked not to bring children.

Refreshments will include ham and corn-on-the-cob. There will be prizes awarded throughout the day, music for dancing and various forms of physical entertainment including horse shoes and races.

Shaw Is Fined $210 On Motor Charges

Thomas P. Shaw, Winifred Road, was fined $210 and costs Tuesday in T r i a l Magistrates Court after he pleaded guilty to violating four state motor charges.

Police said he failed to stop after sideswiping another auto on Baltimore Avenue July 18. Shaw also was given a six-month suspended sentence.

Locking Of Cars Advised By Police

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn yesterday advised motorists to lock unattended vehicles as a precautionary measure against thefts and other crimes.

Although there has been no recent outbreaks of auto larcenies in Cumberland, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," he added.

Flynn also reported that patrolmen on the night shifts frequently find doors of business establishments unlocked. The usual procedure is to notify the owner who checks the place to determine if a burglary has been committed.

Touching on another subject, he asked local merchants to exercise more care in cashing checks.

Accident Case Appeal Heard In Court

An appeal from an award of the Maryland State Industrial Accident Commission was heard before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday morning.

Cassell B. Tasker of Clarksburg, W. Va., formerly employed by the Davis Coal and Coke Company at Kempton, had been given a cash compensation award on the basis he had silicosis.

The appellant was the Davis Coal and Coke Company, appealing the decision of the State Industrial Accident Commission in allowing Tasker compensation not to exceed $7,200 during the continuance of permanent total disability due to silicosis.

It was established that Tasker contracted silicosis while employed at the Kempton Mine of the firm.

The Medical Board of the commission found he had silicosis, but was not totally disabled, testimony showed.

Later the case was reopened by the claimant to determine the question of whether or not he was disabled from returning to work as a coal miner.

In the meantime Tasker got a job as an attendant at a garage, testimony showed. The accident commission gave him the award that he was totally disabled because he couldn't return to work as a coal miner.

Attorneys for the coal company were William A. Gunter, this city, and Theodore C. Waters, of the Baltimore firm of Miles and Stockbridge.

Representing the claimant were Edward J. Ryan and William L. Wilson Jr. They argued that their client was totally disabled and that the decision of the commission should be upheld.

Protected Pouring Lip

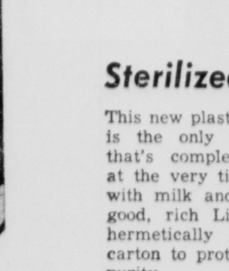

Sterilized foil protects the pouring lip. It is completely sealed—not merely closed—until the very time you open it in your own kitchen. And you can easily re-close the carton tightly.

Leak-Proof

No more worries about the bottom dropping out of your shopping bag — or about a messy refrigerator. This new Liberty container remains dry and firm with an exclusive welded bottom. It's the strongest milk carton ever made!

Ask For It . . .
AT YOUR FAVORITE STORE

Easiest to Pour

Just peel back the sterilized foil tabs and pour a spoonful or a glassful—with no gush, no drip, no dribble. And you're sure to get all the milk out, because the plastic-coated inner surface is always slick and smooth.

No Wax Flakes

There is no wax coating to flake off in the milk, on clothing or refrigerator shelves . . . because this exclusive Liberty carton is coated inside with smooth, hard-finish plastic! You hold the carton easily, too — no slippery wax to contend with.

Sterilized

This new plastic-lined carton is the only milk package that's completely sterilized at the very time it is filled with milk and sealed. That good, rich Liberty milk is hermetically sealed in the carton to protect its perfect purity.

Katherine Earnest Is Honor Guest At Pre-Nuptial Party

Is Fiancee Of Howard Maiers

Mrs. James McFarland entertained with a miscellaneous shower and pre-nuptial party in compliment to her daughter, Miss Katherine Earnest at their home, Potomac Street, Ridgeley.

Miss Earnest, daughter of Mrs. McFarland and the late Asa Earnest, is to become the bride of Howard Maiers, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Maiers, Ridgeley, tomorrow. The wedding is being solemnized at 7 p. m., in Calvary Methodist Church, Ridgeley with Rev. T. Roscoe Hall officiating. Mrs. Burton Mulligan is to be the bride's matron of honor and only attendant; while Thomas Maiers serves as his brother's best man. Robert Kramph and Arthur Maiers will be the ushers.

A wedding reception is being held at the home of Mrs. Mulligan, Knobley Street, following the ceremony. Her decorations for the ceremony. The hostess carried out a blue and white color scheme in her decorations for the shower. The gifts were arranged in a large basket, covered in white and trimmed in blue. Flowers were used in the decorations of the home and a buffet style lunch was served.

Guests were Mrs. E. J. Maiers, Mrs. Minnie McFarland, Mrs. Edith Mulligan, Mrs. Evelyn Nestor, Mrs. Larry Barley, Mrs. Mary Boch, Mrs. Grace Tichnell, Miss Toyia Spangler, Mrs. Betty Northcraft, Mrs. Verna Skidmore, Mrs. Lucille Matlick, Mrs. Thomas Jones, Mrs. Hazel Malamphy, Mrs. Gertie McFarland, Mrs. Dale Clingerman and Miss Janet Nestor.

Couple To Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Powers are observing their 25th wedding anniversary at an open house today at their home, 123 Hanover Street.

The former Miss Mary Albright, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John W. Albright, Mt. Savage, and Mr. Powers, native of Frostburg, son of Mrs. Mary Powers and the late James Powers, were married August 6, 1928 in St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Mt. Savage. Rev. George Tragresser officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers are the parents of one child, Miss Mary Eileen Powers, at home. Mr. Powers is a city patrolman.

The open house is being held for friends and neighbors. It will be from 2 until 5 o'clock and 8 until 11 o'clock.

The Sunday School Workers of First Baptist Church will hold a conference and basket picnic in Grove 1, Constitution Park tomorrow at 6:30 p. m.

The five-day Club Week winds up Friday night. Some 1,200 boys and girls from all over Maryland are participating in the agriculture, homemaking and recreational activities.

At today's session, Frank A. Teuton of the U. S. Department of Agriculture gave a talk and demonstration on new uses of farm products.

One part of his demonstration included wearing apparel made from new fabrics. Taking part in the modeling were two daughters of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, Bonnie and Beverly. Mrs. Benson also attended today's session.

Tonight were to be more camp fire programs with tours on tomorrow's schedule.

Industry Promotion

It was in January that Hargreaves first contacted the Airtronic Research firm which is now located on South Mechanic Street. After cooperating with the Maryland Employment Service for obtaining machinists and a suitable building was located, Hargreaves reported the new industry began operations here March 9. During negotiations, Airtonics used the Industrial Promotion Office as temporary headquarters for handling power arrangements, lease arrangements and other requirements of the company.

A glass manufacturing firm began investigation of this city in January as a result of Hargreave's contact with them. The company is to make its decision by September 30. Representatives of the company visited Cumberland July 20. Also in January, work was begun on an engineering report for a metal working firm that expects to give Hargreaves a decision by the first of September.

Prospects To Report

Hargreaves has also contacted the Allegheny Gas Company and has been assured of sufficient processing fuel for industrial needs.

February was also a busy month for Hargreaves. Investigations were carried out to determine how plants could be financed, research was conducted for appropriate plant sites and raw materials, correspondence and visits continued, and many meetings were held.

In March a comprehensive survey of the facilities of the area which would be acceptable to industry at competitive prices with other communities was begun. Negotiations were started with a metal fabricating company that has indicated it will make its decision in the near future as to whether they will locate here or in Massachusetts.

During April an economic data book was compiled. Many other companies were contacted and others advised Hargreaves they were not ready to locate here yet. In May and June work continued in following leads and negotiating with companies already contacted. Several representatives visited Cumberland and weighed facilities and advantages here.

As a result of leads obtained in July, visits were also made to Syracuse, Albany, Schnectady, Brooklyn, New York City, Toledo, Washington and Detroit. Some of the companies have decided to locate elsewhere or are not ready to expand at present.

Wins Sewing Machine

Mrs. Margaret C. Savage, 42 Wright Street, Frostburg, was awarded an electric sewing machine for winning Wolf's Furniture Company's "Count the Dots" contest. Although Mrs. Savage was one of 62 contestants who had the correct total of 2,663 dots, she was selected winner for the originality of her letter. The firm said 3,772 entries were received in the competition.

Work On

turned Front Street into a lake.

The big cleanup job got under way yesterday morning as city workmen began digging silt and debris from midcity streets and railroad section hands cleaned up the B&O's Baltimore Street crossing.

Paving Ruined

At the trouble point itself, some 150 feet of Baltimore Avenue was ruined when the escaping water suddenly surged up from below with explosive force.

Firemen used two 2½-inch pumper lines from a fire engine to pull water out of the crater so water workers could begin their explorations. The Salvation Army supplied coffee to workmen through the night.

The Street Department sent over a big power shovel to make the hole wider so the Water Department men would have room enough to work.

Engle's Grocery, which recently moved into a storeroom at the intersection, probably suffered the most damage from the break. Water flooded refrigeration units and stock in the basement, and the sidewalk in front of the store dropped into the hole in the street. Water also flooded stock and equipment which had not yet been moved from the store's former Glenn Street location.

Ford's Baltimore Avenue drug store also suffered loss of considerable merchandise and fountain supplies when water flooded their basement.

All the stores have cleaned up their premises and are open for business as usual.

Driver Arrested

A Valley Road man who drove his car almost to the brink of the hole after City Police officers said they had unsuccessfully tried to flag him down posted $200 bond last night on two state motor charges.

Officer Carl Williams testified in Trial Magistrates Court that Robert K. Miller, 27, nearly ran him down when Williams tried to stop him at the Central YMCA intersection.

Officer John Chaney said Miller finally stopped 15 feet from the edge of the chasm when Chaney blocked his path. Magistrate J. Milton Dick deferred a decision until today.

Traffic detours probably will be in effect at the intersection, which is on U. S. Route 40, for some time. Outgoing vehicles are being routed up Glenn Street to Decatur and then to Baltimore Avenue.

Incoming traffic is being detoured out Bellevue Street, down Fulton to Henderson Avenue.

Advice to Mothers of School-Age Girls

By DAISY BLAFER
Child Consultant

Does your daughter dislike school? Does she make poor grades or shy away from other children? If you're wondering why . . . it may very well be caused by her appearance.

When she is called upon to answer a question, how can she concentrate on the correct answer if she is self-conscious of her worn, faded or poorly fitting dress? She can't! The teacher assumes that she does not know her lesson and marks her accordingly.

Lack of ready cash is not a good excuse. If mothers would shop wisely, on easy credit terms, and take advantage of money-saving sales, their daughters would be well-dressed regardless of the family income.

Here's a perfect example of wise shopping. The Peoples Store at 77 Baltimore St. has a tremendous selection of "back to school" dresses in plaid and plaid-solid combinations. They are washable, colorfast, and sanforized. And they're on sale. Two dresses for only $4.44! The Peoples Store offers terms suited to your budget at no extra cost, so there's no reason for you to pass up this sale.

Your daughter will certainly be proud to wear these charming dresses, so go to the Peoples Store now and use your credit to stock up on them. The Peoples Store is located at 77 Baltimore St.

The City Recreation Department is sponsoring the city-wide tournament. Supervising last night's divisional playoffs were Charles Bryce, Northern, and Charles Calhoun, Southern.

Governor Greets Hagerstown GI

SEATTLE, Aug. 5 (AP)—A Hagerstown, Md., corporal was received like a general home from the wars today.

Waiting to greet Corp. Eugene W. Campbell were Gov. McKeldin of Maryland, a beauty queen and a Navalaide.

Campbell was the 18th to come down the gangplank of the Marine Lynx which arrived from Pusan, Korea. He was one of 48 decorated infantrymen, each representing a state, picked to receive a special greeting by their governors who are meeting in Seattle.

Gov. McKeldin read a citation to Campbell:

"Be it known that the State of Maryland is proud of the valor of its sons in all the wars which have marked the nation's history, and that your prowess and bravery in battle, as demonstrated in Korea, and for which you have been selected to represent your courageous companions-in-arms at the national governors' conference of 1953 in Seattle, Washington, entitle you to high commendation, in recognition of which you are hereby awarded this certificate of appreciation.

"With it go the thanks of the state of Maryland for the great services rendered to the cause of freedom by you and those you represent so well."

Foresters To Attend Pennsylvania Meeting

District Forester William H. Johnson and Harry Hartman, his assistant, left here about noon yesterday to attend the three-day summer meeting of the Allegheny Section of the Society of American Foresters at the Penn State Blue Jay Summer Forestry Camp at Marienville, in Forest County, Pa.

A number of other employes of the State Department of Forests and Parks, headed by Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the department, also will attend. Others include Adna Bond, assistant forester, who is chairman of the Allegheny Section; Karl E. Pfeiffer, assistant director of the department; Carl Stravinski, park technician; A. J. Pickall, district forester at Laurel; William A. Parr, district forester at Bel Air, and Henry Stasiak, assistant district forester at Bel Air. Sidney D. Peverly of Bel Air, chairman of the Commission of State Forests and Parks, also plans to attend.

Water Office Closed

Due to the illness of William C. Stouffer, Meadow Drive, Cresap Park, the Cresaptown Water Office will be closed. Residents of Cresaptown may pay water bills at Stouffer's home.

Maryland Junior Legion Tournament To Open Today

Cumberland, Wicomico To Clash At 8:30

Salisbury Is Scene Of Double Elimination Three-Day Competition

Fort Cumberland Post's Mountain District League champions and Wicomico Post (Salisbury) will clash tonight at Salisbury, Md., at 8:30 o'clock in an opening round game in Maryland's American Legion junior baseball championship tournament.

This will be the last of three games scheduled in today's opening round.

At 2 p. m. Morris Frock Post of Hagerstown will do battle with Cissel-Saxon Post of Silver Spring while at 5:30 o'clock Grantley Post, Baltimore, will tangle with Cecil Post of Elkton.

Double Elimination Affair

It's a double elimination tournament and a team must lose two games to be put out. The tourney continues through Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Fort Cumberland Post qualified for the tourney by winning the title in the Mountain District League, winning nine of 12 games. This is Cumberland's first appearance in state play since 1949.

The winner of the Salisbury tourney advances to the three-day regional event for Maryland, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia champions at Parkersburg, commencing August 15.

Harry Iser (4-1) or Bobby Dawson (3-1) will start on the rubber for Fort Cumberland in tonight's opener with Harold Hudson receiving. Lefty Don Paye (2-0) is also available for mound duty.

Made Sweep In 1934

Fort Cumberland Post is the only team from Western Maryland that has ever won a state title. That was in 1934 when the locals, handled by W. Earle Brooks and Frank Zahradka, bagged state honors, won tournaments at Bethlehem, Pa., and Gastonia N. C., and defeated New Orleans in the Legion World Series staged at Wrigley Field and Comiskey Park in Chicago. Frank Zahradka is coach of the present team.

READY FOR LEGION DISTRICT GAMES—Here are the 1953 Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball League champions from Fort Cumberland Post No. 13. They won the title in the four-team circuit by copping nine out of 12 games and qualified to meet Wicomico Post of Salisbury, tonight at 8:30 in the opening round of the district tourney at Salisbury on the Eastern Shore. The Cumberland team turned in a .306 batting average duirng the league campaign, chalking up 107 hits in 350 official at bats. The squad, left to right: BACK ROW—Coach Frank Zahradka, who coached Fort Cumberland Post's World Champions of 1934; Wayne Murray, Bruce Lynn, Harry Iser, Bob Kirtley, Rodney Breedlove, Ed Puffenburger, Leroy Allen, Donald Paye and George Zegles, manager. FRONT ROW—Bobby Dawson, Joe Conroy, Galen McGregor, Eddie Cecil, Harold Hudson, Dorcil Kline and Jim Hoffman. The mascot is Terry Zegles.

Bucs Beat Redlegs 6-4 Despite Homers

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5 (AP)—Three of Cincinnati's six hits today were homers, but they were not enough to defeat the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates. The score was 6 to 4.

Big Ted Kluszewski hit the ball over the right field fence twice, driving in three runs. The other was Gus Bell's 25th homer in the fifth.

Houston Now Plans To Play Football

HIRAM, Ohio, Aug. 5 (AP) — Lin Houston, the Cleveland Browns' big guard, changed his mind today and decided not to retire from professional football.

He said he would report for practice tomorrow morning.

The 215-pound offensive lineman has spent his entire football career under the coaching of Paul Brown —at Massillon Ohio High School, Ohio State University and with the Browns. He was one of the original players signed when the team was formed in 1946.

Ball Team To Meet

The Junior Optimist Softball Team will meet Friday at 6:30 p. m. at Central YMCA. Ernest Duckworth, manager, said new caps will be issued to the players.

Frederick Wins State LL Crown

Tops Baltimore Team By 9 To 2

FREDERICK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Donnie Keller, son of the former star New York Yankee outfielder, pitched and helped bat Frederick to a 9-2 victory over Hamilton YMCA of Baltimore for the Maryland Little League baseball championship tonight.

The young Keller, whose father Charlie manages the team, held the Baltimoreans to four hits and in the bargain started off his team with a home run with a mate aboard in the first inning.

It is the second straight Maryland championship for the Frederick Little Leaguers. They will go to Vineland, N. J., Saturday to play in the South Jersey District playoffs which they won last year before losing in the regionals.

Keller had only one real stretch of trouble in the second inning when Hamilton scored its two runs to trail 3-2. The runs were scored without a hit. Three walks, a passed ball, and wild pitch did the damage.

Frederick knocked Hamilton's star pitcher Johnny Wassin out of the box with a four-run assault in the fourth inning. A homer by Bill Crothers with two on was the big blow.

Tinker Michael, Frederick catcher, completed the rout with a homer off Larry Wittle in the sixth inning with a runner on base.

Grapplers Show At Fair Grounds

Kiwanis Benefit Is Set Tonight

The Cumberland Kiwanis Club will sponsor a professional wrestling show for the benefit of its Sunshine Camp tonight at the Cumberland Fair Grounds.

First of four matches on the card is scheduled to get under way at 9 o'clock.

In the main match which has a one hour time limit, Ruffy Silverstein, of Chicago, will oppose Mighty Ursus, the Mexican heavyweight.

Other matches on the card bring together the Golden Terror and Texas Jack Dillon, Mike Paidousis, former Tennessee football player and the Zebra Kid and a women's match between Gloria Baratini and Mae Young.

It will be the first pro wrestling show here since 1950 when the ponderous pachyderms did a fade-out after two shows were staged at the armory. A good-sized crowd is expected for the opening show.

The referee will be named by the Maryland State Athletic Commission of Baltimore.

Lions Tossers Win 7th In Row

Winters Defeats B'nai B'rith 6-5

The Lions scored their seventh straight victory yesterday at Stitcher Field with a 6-5 verdict over B'nai B'rith tossers in a Hot Stove League engagement.

Winters tossed four-hit ball for the triumph and a snappy double play stopped a B'nai B'rith rally in the seventh inning after the losers came within one run of tying the score.

Buddy Campbell took a line drive at shortstop with B'nai B'rith runners on second and third and converted it into a twin killing to end the contest.

John Rice, Valentine and Roy each had two bingles to pace the Lions while Deremer had a triple for the losers. The score:

Braves Rally To Win, 5-3, Over Dodgers

Cooper's Pinch Hit Scores Winning Run, 30,741 See Game

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5 (AP)-Walker Cooper lashed a pinch single over second base behind back-to-back doubles by Joe Adcock and Del Crandall in the eighth inning today as the Milwaukee Braves snapped a six-game home losing streak to Brooklyn, 5-3, before 30,741 fans.

Lew Burdette, who was involved in an apparent name-calling episode with Dodger catcher Roy Campanella Monday night, retired the last three Brooklyn batters to preserve the victory and cut the Braves' deficit to 7½ games although Ernie Johnson, who relieved starter Max Surkont in the eighth, received credit for the win.

Dodger starter Carl Erskine had a shut out going until the seventh when a two-base error by Junior Gilliam on pinchhitter Harry Hanebrink's hard hit grounder scored Crandall and Jack Dittmer.

Adcock and Crandall doubled successively to chase Erskine as the eighth opened and Erv Palica relieved. Sid Gordon lined out and Dittmer was walked intentionally, but Cooper's sharp single sent Crandall home to put the Braves' ahead. Warren Spahn, running for Cooper, was hit by Billy Bruton's grounder, but Sibby Sisti walked to fill the bases and a pass to Eddie Mathews forced in the cushion run.

The Stallions scored their sixth straight victory yesterday by edging the Mustangs 7-6 in a Pony League engagement at Penn Avenue.

The triumph kept the league leaders a game and a half ahead of the Thoroughbreds who posted a 6-4 decision over the Colts at Campobello.

The Stallions have not lost since their opening game and Hank Page registered his sixth win of the year with a four-hitter. He struck out six.

Tom Martin and Ed Widdows had two hits apiece to pace the Stallions who iced the game with a four-run rally in the sixth inning. Sisk had two bingles for the Mustangs.

Ed Athey stopped the Colts with three hits as the Thoroughbreds racked up their fourth win. Don Puhalla's double in the fifth for the winners was the game's only extra base blow.

East All-Stars Defeat West 4-1 In County Tilt

Toler Benefit Fund Game Garners $500

A galaxy of Eastern All-Stars from Hercules, Central Lunch and Sports Shoppe teams scored a 4-1 victory over the Western All-Stars from Stringtown, Potomac Valley, Cunningham's and Ellerslie.

The game was witnessed by approximately 1,000 persons at Corriganville and first estimates were that it garnered some $500 for the Frank Toler Building Fund.

The Eastern stars, paced by Hercules' Lou Baker who tripled and pushed all four runs across at the Central's Tucker who doubled, expense of Glen Kauffman, Stringtown hurler in the fourth and sixth innings.

Russ Miller, Cunningham's ace twirler hurled hitless ball the first three frames against the East while Hayden Phillips closed out with three hitless stints for the losers.

Jack Mayo of Central Lunch was the winning pitcher while Day and Claget McAlister finished up, holding the Western aggregation to four bingles. John Price of Stringtown garnered the only extra base blow for the losers, a triple. The score:

Cumberland, Wicomico To Clash At 8:30

Salisbury Is Scene Of Double Elimination Three-Day Competition

Fort Cumberland Post's Mountain District League champions and Wicomico Post (Salisbury) will clash tonight at Salisbury, Md., at 8:30 o'clock in an opening round game in Maryland's American Legion junior baseball championship tournament.

This will be the last of three games scheduled in today's opening round.

At 2 p. m. Morris Frock Post of Hagerstown will do battle with Cissel-Saxon Post of Silver Spring while at 5:30 o'clock Grantley Post, Baltimore, will tangle with Cecil Post of Elkton.

Double Elimination Affair

It's a double elimination tournament and a team must lose two games to be put out. The tourney continues through Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Fort Cumberland Post qualified for the tourney by winning the title in the Mountain District League, winning nine of 12 games. This is Cumberland's first appearance in state play since 1949.

The winner of the Salisbury tourney advances to the three-day regional event for Maryland, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia champions at Parkersburg, commencing August 15.

Harry Iser (4-1) or Bobby Dawson (3-1) will start on the rubber for Fort Cumberland in tonight's opener with Harold Hudson receiving. Lefty Don Paye (2-0) is also available for mound duty.

Made Sweep In 1934

Fort Cumberland Post is the only team from Western Maryland that has ever won a state title. That was in 1934 when the locals, handled by W. Earle Brooks and Frank Zahradka, bagged state honors, won tournaments at Bethlehem, Pa., and Gastonia N. C., and defeated New Orleans in the Legion World Series staged at Wrigley Field and Comiskey Park in Chicago. Frank Zahradka is coach of the present team.

READY FOR LEGION DISTRICT GAMES—Here are the 1953 Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball League champions from Fort Cumberland Post No. 13. They won the title in the four-team circuit by copping nine out of 12 games and qualified to meet Wicomico Post of Salisbury, tonight at 8:30 in the opening round of the district tourney at Salisbury on the Eastern Shore. The Cumberland team turned in a .306 batting average duirng the league campaign, chalking up 107 hits in 350 official at bats. The squad, left to right: BACK ROW—Coach Frank Zahradka, who coached Fort Cumberland Post's World Champions of 1934; Wayne Murray, Bruce Lynn, Harry Iser, Bob Kirtley, Rodney Breedlove, Ed Puffenburger, Leroy Allen, Donald Paye and George Zegles, manager. FRONT ROW—Bobby Dawson, Joe Conroy, Galen McGregor, Eddie Cecil, Harold Hudson, Dorcil Kline and Jim Hoffman. The mascot is Terry Zegles.

Braves Rally To Win, 5-3, Over Dodgers

Cooper's Pinch Hit Scores Winning Run, 30,741 See Game

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5 (AP)-Walker Cooper lashed a pinch single over second base behind back-to-back doubles by Joe Adcock and Del Crandall in the eighth inning today as the Milwaukee Braves snapped a six-game home losing streak to Brooklyn, 5-3, before 30,741 fans.

Lew Burdette, who was involved in an apparent name-calling episode with Dodger catcher Roy Campanella Monday night, retired the last three Brooklyn batters to preserve the victory and cut the Braves' deficit to 7½ games although Ernie Johnson, who relieved starter Max Surkont in the eighth, received credit for the win.

Dodger starter Carl Erskine had a shut out going until the seventh when a two-base error by Junior Gilliam on pinchhitter Harry Hanebrink's hard hit grounder scored Crandall and Jack Dittmer.

Adcock and Crandall doubled successively to chase Erskine as the eighth opened and Erv Palica relieved. Sid Gordon lined out and Dittmer was walked intentionally, but Cooper's sharp single sent Crandall home to put the Braves' ahead. Warren Spahn, running for Cooper, was hit by Billy Bruton's grounder, but Sibby Sisti walked to fill the bases and a pass to Eddie Mathews forced in the cushion run.

Stallions Win 6th Straight In Pony Loop

Beat Mustangs 7-6, Thoroughbreds Score

PONY LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
Stallions	6	1	.857
Thoroughbreds	4	2	.667
Mustangs	2	5	.286
Colts	1	5	.167

The Stallions scored their sixth straight victory yesterday by edging the Mustangs 7-6 in a Pony League engagement at Penn Avenue.

The triumph kept the league leaders a game and a half ahead of the Thoroughbreds who posted a 6-4 decision over the Colts at Campobello.

The Stallions have not lost since their opening game and Hank Page registered his sixth win of the year with a four-hitter. He struck out six.

Tom Martin and Ed Widdows had two hits apiece to pace the Stallions who iced the game with a four-run rally in the sixth inning. Sisk had two bingles for the Mustangs.

Ed Athey stopped the Colts with three hits as the Thoroughbreds racked up their fourth win. Don Puhalla's double in the fifth for the winners was the game's only extra base blow.

East All-Stars Defeat West 4-1 In County Tilt

Toler Benefit Fund Game Garners $500

A galaxy of Eastern All-Stars from Hercules, Central Lunch and Sports Shoppe teams scored a 4-1 victory over the Western All-Stars from Stringtown, Potomac Valley, Cunningham's and Ellerslie.

The game was witnessed by approximately 1,000 persons at Corriganville and first estimates were that it garnered some $500 for the Frank Toler Building Fund.

The Eastern stars, paced by Hercules' Lou Baker who tripled and pushed all four runs across at the Central's Tucker who doubled, expense of Glen Kauffman, Stringtown hurler in the fourth and sixth innings.

Russ Miller, Cunningham's ace twirler hurled hitless ball the first three frames against the East while Hayden Phillips closed out with three hitless stints for the losers.

Jack Mayo of Central Lunch was the winning pitcher while Day and Claget McAlister finished up, holding the Western aggregation to four bingles. John Price of Stringtown garnered the only extra base blow for the losers, a triple. The score:

Frederick Wins State LL Crown

Tops Baltimore Team By 9 To 2

FREDERICK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Donnie Keller, son of the former star New York Yankee outfielder, pitched and helped bat Frederick to a 9-2 victory over Hamilton YMCA of Baltimore for the Maryland Little League baseball championship tonight.

The young Keller, whose father Charlie manages the team, held the Baltimoreans to four hits and in the bargain started off his team with a home run with a mate aboard in the first inning.

It is the second straight Maryland championship for the Frederick Little Leaguers. They will go to Vineland, N. J., Saturday to play in the South Jersey District playoffs which they won last year before losing in the regionals.

Keller had only one real stretch of trouble in the second inning when Hamilton scored its two runs to trail 3-2. The runs were scored without a hit. Three walks, a passed ball, and wild pitch did the damage.

Frederick knocked Hamilton's star pitcher Johnny Wassin out of the box with a four-run assault in the fourth inning. A homer by Bill Crothers with two on was the big blow.

Tinker Michael, Frederick catcher, completed the rout with a homer off Larry Wittle in the sixth inning with a runner on base.

Grapplers Show At Fair Grounds

Kiwanis Benefit Is Set Tonight

The Cumberland Kiwanis Club will sponsor a professional wrestling show for the benefit of its Sunshine Camp tonight at the Cumberland Fair Grounds.

First of four matches on the card is scheduled to get under way at 9 o'clock.

In the main match which has a one hour time limit, Ruffy Silverstein, of Chicago, will oppose Mighty Ursus, the Mexican heavyweight.

Other matches on the card bring together the Golden Terror and Texas Jack Dillon, Mike Paidousis, former Tennessee football player and the Zebra Kid and a women's match between Gloria Baratini and Mae Young.

It will be the first pro wrestling show here since 1950 when the ponderous pachyderms did a fadeout after two shows were staged at the armory. A good-sized crowd is expected for the opening show.

The referee will be named by the Maryland State Athletic Commission of Baltimore.

Lions Tossers Win 7th In Row

Winters Defeats B'nai B'rith 6-5

The Lions scored their seventh straight victory yesterday at Stitcher Field with a 6-5 verdict over B'nai B'rith tossers in a Hot Stove League engagement.

Winters tossed four-hit ball for the triumph and a snappy double play stopped a B'nai B'rith rally in the seventh inning after the losers came within one run of tying the score.

Buddy Campbell took a line drive at shortstop with B'nai B'rith runners on second and third and converted it into a twin killing to end the contest.

John Rice, Valentine and Roy each had two bingles to pace the Lions while Deremer had a triple for the losers. The score:

George Day Flies To Akron To Vie In Soap Box Derby

George Day, 15-year-old Cumberland champion, left yesterday by plane for Akron, Ohio, where he will compete in the annual 16th All-American Soap Box Derby.

Traveling with George is J. Suter Kegg, sports editor of the Cumberland Evening Times. Young Day will represent Cumberland in the gala affair Sunday. He will vie for the big title with 151 other champions.

Thirty-seven other area youngsters, who competed in the Cumberland derby, were feted last night at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club by the Times-News at the regular monthly dinner meeting of the Junior Association of Commerce. The Jaycees, Times-News and Eiler Chevrolet were co-sponsors of the Cumberland derby.

Runner-up prizes were awarded contestants at last night's affair.

Tennis Players Form Amateur Booster Club

Top Stars Feel Game Is Dying

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 5 (AP)—Fifty American players taking part in the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships announced the formation today of an amateur players association to help boost the sport.

Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., the nation's top ranking player and unofficial spokesman for the group, said the main reason for the organization was to give tennis in the United States a much needed boost.

"Tennis in the United States is dying," he said. "This is just the opposite of what is happening in Europe and Australia where tennis interest is reaching new heights. There is no reason in the world why tennis should not get some responses in this country.

"The players feel that they are in a position to help better the promotion of American tennis."

A seven-man steering committee was to complete final plans for the amateur tennis organization. The group, in addition to Mulloy, includes Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, Grant Golden of Chicago, Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., Noel Brown of Los Angeles, Charley Masterson of Brooklyn and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati.

Golden said the aims of the new group are:

1. Promotion of more tennis tournaments by helping re-establish events like those at Sea Bright and other grass court events.

2. An equitable distribution of talent among conflicting tournaments.

3. Power to discipline players so as to prevent poor public relations brought on in the 1930's by a few of the game's cutups of that era.

4. Representation of ranking players as active members on the National Ranking Committee and the Davis Cup Selection Committee.

5. A way to ease personal expenses of all the American players at the national championships in Forest Hills, New York.

Colts Find Line Backers

Pro Gridders Prep For Inter-Squad Tilt

WESTMINSTER, Md., Aug. 5 (AP)—Baltimore Colts Coach Keith Molesworth, readying his National Football League club for tomorrow's inter-squad game in Baltimore, said today the club apparently has enough line-backer material.

This department had loomed as a big question mark, Molesworth rating it as one of the weakest links on the Dallas Texan squad, from which the Colts are being rebuilt.

First, there are Ed Sharkey, picked up in a trade with Cleveland and Alex Agase, former Brownie who helped coach the Texans last year.

Also battling for linebacker jobs in the game tomorrow night will be Joe Reid, who played with Los Angeles and Dallas; Keith Flowers, ex-Texan, and Joe Dean Tidwell, former Midwestern fullback.

Pimlico Announces Five Stakes Dates

BALTIMORE, Aug. 5 (AP)—Dates for five stakes totalling $107,500 in added money during the 12-day fall meeting Oct. 12-24 were announced today by Pimlico Race Track.

The $7,500 stakes for 2-year-olds bred in Maryland will feature opening day. Two-year-old fillies will race for $10,000 in the Marguerite on Oct. 14.

The $25,000 Pimlico Futurity for 2-year-olds will be run Oct. 17. Fillies and mares 3-years-old and up will compete for $15,000 in the Gallorette on Oct. 21.

The climax will be the $50,000 Pimlico Special Oct. 24 when Pimlico hopes to bring together the outstanding Native Dancer and Tom Fool.

Giants Still Live

Much is said and written about the giant animals of past ages, such as the dinosaurs. It is true, however, that the largest species of animal that ever lived is still living — the blue whale, which may weigh up to one hundred and twenty tons or the equivalent in weight of 240 horses of an average weight of one thousand pounds.

Rain Cancels Tennis Play

Mountain Lake Park Matches Rescheduled

OAKLAND, Md., Aug. 5 (AP) — Heavy rains continued to throw a damper on the 32nd annual Western Maryland tennis tournament at nearby Mountain Lake Park today with only one singles match being completed.

Doyle Royal of College Park, dean of men at the University of Maryland, defeated Bond Weber of Charleston, W. Va., 6-2, 6-3. Three other matches were broken up by showers.

Only seven singles, four for men and three for women, were completed in yesterday's intermittent showers. With a break from the weather man tomorrow, tournament officials hoped to double up on the schedule and get the clay courts competition rolling.

Fifty-four players are entered in the meet which continues through Saturday.

In addition to singles matches for men and women, play is scheduled in men's doubles, mixed doubles and veterans doubles.

Berra's Double Wins For Yanks In 7th, 5 To 4

Rookie Triandos Hits 1st Homer Off Tigers

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP) — Yogi Berra drove home Mickey Mantle with a tie-breaking double in the seventh inning today for a 5-4 New York Yankee decision over Detroit after Gus Triandos hit his first major league homer and Billy Martin his 11th of the season.

Johnny Sain, coming to the rescue of Jim McDonald in the third inning, skirted disaster the rest of the way, scattering seven Tiger hits over the last six innings.

The Yanks finally caught up with Billy Hoeft, the young southpaw who set them down with three hits the last time he started against them, July 24. Hoeft went all the way and was touched for 10 hits.

Gil McDougald's leadoff triple and Irv Noren's infield out gave New York a 1-0 lead in the first. The Tigers came back with three to knock out McDonald in the third. Five singles by Don Lund, Harvey Kuenn, Johnny Pesky, Ray Boone and Walt Dropo ended McDonald's day. Sain came in to get the final out.

Leahy To Play Ike

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (INS) — Frank Leahy, Notre Dame football coach, left Chicago by private plane today for Washington to keep a golfing date with President Eisenhower.

Pro Golfers To Shoot Today For $25,000 "World" Title

Believe 275 Score Will Cop Jackpot

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (AP)—Tournament-wise pros, regrouping for a mass assault on par, today set 275 as the magic number in the Tam O'Shanter golf jackpot this weekend.

They said that figure, 13 strokes under par for 72 holes of pressure shooting, should be good enough to win the $25,000 bonanza of the "world championship" starting tomorrow.

The total purse in the men's pro field of 83 starters is $75,000, and the $25,000 top prize is the richest payoff in golf. Second place is worth $10,000, third $5,000 and the list scales down to $200 for 60th.

In the $12,000 world meet for women pros, $5,000 goes to the champion, $1,600 to the runner-up and $1,000 to third. This list is graded down to $370 for 12th.

In addition to the men and women pro divisions, there are world championships for men and women amateurs.

All four divisions run concurrently. Except for the large men's pro field, each of the other tournaments has 12 handpicked contestants.

Julius Boros is defending champion of the world men's pro division, winning the 1952 crown in an 18-hole playoff with Cary Middlecoff.

The playoff was the third needed to decide a winner since the world meet was put on a 72-hole basis in 1949. Ben Hogan was only player who won outright with 273 in 1951, for the lowest 72-hole tally ever posted in this competition.

Hogan, the 1953 Masters', U. S. Open and British Open champion, is not entered this time.

Frank Stranahan will be shooting for his fourth straight world amateur title, while Betty Jameson will attempt to defend her crown in the women's pro section. Mary Villeges will not be on hand to defend her title in the women's amateur.

Unlike the past, a playoff, if needed this time, will be on a "sudden death" basis.

Sam Snead, Dutch Harrison, Al Besselink, Boros, Bob Hamilton, Clayton Heafner, Lew Worsham, Pete Cooper and Walter Burkemo were among those setting a 72-hole score of 275 to 278 as the payoff target.

Bout Postponed

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 5 (AP) — Archie Moore, world light heavyweight champion, has been forced to postpone his Saturday non-title match with Argentine Rinalso Ansaloni because of a hand injury received in a training accident. No new date for the fight was set.

Florence Calls Off Channel Swim

DOVER, England, Aug. 5 (AP) — Florence Chadwick called off another attempt to swim the English Channel round trip, non-stop, when England's unpredictable weather turned foul today.

Due to changing tides Miss Chadwick isn't expected to make another attempt until Aug. 16 or 17. She swam for nine hours and 55 minutes Sunday before giving up the difficult west to east crossing.

Tennis Players Form Amateur Booster Club

Top Stars Feel Game Is Dying

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 5 (AP)—Fifty American players taking part in the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships announced the formation today of an amateur players association to help boost the sport.

Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., the nation's top ranking player and unofficial spokesman for the group, said the main reason for the organization was to give tennis in the United States a much needed boost.

"Tennis in the United States is dying," he said. "This is just the opposite of what is happening in Europe and Australia where tennis interest is reaching new heights. There is no reason in the world why tennis should not get some responses in this country.

"The players feel that they are in a position to help better the promotion of American tennis."

A seven-man steering committee was to complete final plans for the amateur tennis organization. The group, in addition to Mulloy, includes Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, Grant Golden of Chicago, Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., Noel Brown of Los Angeles, Charley Masterson of Brooklyn and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati.

Golden said the aims of the new group are:

1. Promotion of more tennis tournaments by helping re-establish events like those at Sea Bright and other grass court events.

2. An equitable distribution of talent among conflicting tournaments.

3. Power to discipline players so as to prevent poor public relations brought on in the 1930's by a few of the game's cutups of that era.

4. Representation of ranking players as active members on the National Ranking Committee and the Davis Cup Selection Committee.

5. A way to ease personal expenses of all the American players at the national championships in Forest Hills, New York.

Colts Find Line Backers

Pro Gridders Prep For Inter-Squad Tilt

WESTMINSTER, Md., Aug. 5 (AP)—Baltimore Colts Coach Keith Molesworth, readying his National Football League club for tomorrow's inter-squad game in Baltimore, said today the club apparently has enough line-backer material.

This department had loomed as a big question mark, Molesworth rating it as one of the weakest links on the Dallas Texan squad, from which the Colts are being rebuilt.

But Molesworth said today "I think we're in pretty good shape for linebackers."

First, there are Ed Sharkey, picked up in a trade with Cleveland and Alex Agase, former Brownie who helped coach the Texans last year.

Also battling for linebacker jobs in the game tomorrow night will be Joe Reid, who played with Los Angeles and Dallas; Keith Flowers, ex-Texan, and Joe Dean Tidwell, former Midwestern fullback.

Pimlico Announces Five Stakes Dates

BALTIMORE, Aug. 5 (AP)—Dates for five stakes totalling $107,500 in added money during the 12-day fall meeting Oct. 12-24 were announced today by Pimlico Race Track.

The $7,500 stakes for 2-year-olds bred in Maryland will feature opening day. Two-year-old fillies will race for $10,000 in the Marguerite on Oct. 14.

The $25,000 Pimlico Futurity for 2-year-olds will be run Oct. 17. Fillies and mares 3-years-old and up will compete for $15,000 in the Gallorette on Oct. 21.

The climax will be the $50,000 Pimlico Special Oct. 24 when Pimlico hopes to bring together the outstanding Native Dancer and Tom Fool.

Giants Still Live

Much is said and written about the giant animals of past ages such as the dinosaurs. It is true, however, that the largest species of animal that ever lived is still living — the blue whale, which may weigh up to one hundred and twenty tons or the equivalent in weight of 240 horses of an average weight of one thousand pounds.

Rain Cancels Tennis Play

Mountain Lake Park Matches Rescheduled

OAKLAND, Md., Aug. 5 (AP)—Heavy rains continued to throw a damper on the 32nd annual Western Maryland tennis tournament at nearby Mountain Lake Park today with only one singles match being completed.

Doyle Royal of College Park, dean of men at the University of Maryland, defeated Bond Weber of Charleston, W. Va., 6-2, 6-3. Three other matches were broken up by showers.

Only seven singles, four for men and three for women, were completed in yesterday's intermittent showers. With a break from the weather man tomorrow, tournament officials hoped to double up on the schedule and get the clay courts competition rolling.

Fifty-four players are entered in the meet which continues through Saturday.

In addition to singles matches for men and women, play is scheduled in men's doubles, mixed doubles and veterans doubles.

Rookie Triandos Hits 1st Homer Off Tigers

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP) — Yogi Berra drove home Mickey Mantle with a tie-breaking double in the seventh inning today for a 5-4 New York Yankee decision over Detroit after Gus Triandos hit his first major league homer and Billy Martin his 11th of the season.

Johnny Sain, coming to the rescue of Jim McDonald in the third inning, skirted disaster the rest of the way, scattering seven Tiger hits over the last six innings.

The Yanks finally caught up with Billy Hoeft, the young southpaw who set them down with three hits the last time he started against them, July 24. Hoeft went all the way and was touched for 10 hits.

Gil McDougald's leadoff triple and Irv Noren's infield out gave New York a 1-0 lead in the first. The Tigers came back with three to knock out McDonald in the third. Five singles by Don Lund, Harvey Kuenn, Johnny Pesky, Ray Boone and Walt Dropo ended McDonald's day. Sain came in to get the final out.

Leahy To Play Ike

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (INS) — Frank Leahy, Notre Dame football coach, left Chicago by private plane today for Washington to keep a golfing date with President Eisenhower.

Pro Golfers To Shoot Today For $25,000 "World" Title

Believe 275 Score Will Cop Jackpot

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (AP)—Tournament-wise pros, regrouping for a mass assault on par, today set 275 as the magic number in the Tam O'Shanter golf jackpot this weekend.

They said that figure, 13 strokes under par for 72 holes of pressure shooting, should be good enough to win the $25,000 bonanza of the "world championship" starting tomorrow.

The total purse in the men's pro field of 83 starters is $75,000, and the $25,000 top prize is the richest payoff in golf. Second place is worth $10,000, third $5,000 and the list scales down to $200 for 60th.

In the $12,000 world meet for women pros, $5,000 goes to the champion, $1,600 to the runner-up and $1,000 to third. This list is graded down to $370 for 12th.

In addition to the men and women pro divisions, there are world championships for men and women amateurs.

All four divisions run concurrently. Except for the large men's pro field, each of the other tournaments has 12 handpicked contestants.

Julius Boros is defending champion of the world men's pro division, winning the 1952 crown in an 18-hole playoff with Cary Middlecoff.

The playoff was the third needed to decide a winner since the world meet was put on a 72-hole basis in 1949. Ben Hogan was only player who won outright with 273 in 1951, for the lowest 72-hole tally ever posted in this competition.

Hogan, the 1953 Masters', U. S. Open and British Open champion, is not entered this time.

Frank Stranahan will be shooting for his fourth straight world amateur title, while Betty Jameson will attempt to defend her crown in the women's pro section. Mary Villeges will not be on hand to defend her title in the women's amateur.

Unlike the past, a playoff, if needed this time, will be on a "sudden death" basis.

Sam Snead, Dutch Harrison, Al Besselink, Boros, Bob Hamilton, Clayton Heafner, Lew Worsham, Pete Cooper and Walter Burkemo were among those setting a 72-hole score of 275 to 278 as the payoff target.

Bout Postponed

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 5 (AP) — Archie Moore, world light heavyweight champion, has been forced to postpone his Saturday non-title match with Argentine Rinalso Ansaloni because of a hand injury received in a training accident. No new date for the fight was set.

Florence Calls Off Channel Swim

DOVER, England, Aug. 5 (AP) — Florence Chadwick called off another attempt to swim the English Channel round trip, non-stop, when England's unpredictable weather turned foul today.

Due to changing tides Miss Chadwick isn't expected to make another attempt until Aug. 16 or 17. She swam for nine hours and 55 minutes Sunday before giving up the difficult west to east crossing.

Harner To Head Parsons School Lighting Group

New Unit Will Sell Bonds For Equipment

PARSONS — The newly organized Parsons High School Lighting Association has named Del Roy Harner as its president. Harner is also president of the Parsons Kiwanis Club.

Other officers approved by the Tucker County Board of Education are M. M. Freeman, principal, vice president; Mrs. Paul Flanagan, of the All Letter Club Auxiliary, secretary, and Robert O. Shrout, of the Chamber of Commerce, treasurer.

Other members of the nine-member committee, which will apply for a charter, are Jason Wolford, county superintendent of schools; Dr. Guy H. Michael, Sr. and Darl Stalnaker, members of the Board of Education; C. Robert Sullivan, coach of the school, and R. K. McClain, representing the River City Club.

The organization was formed as a non-profit unit to secure lights for the athletic field of Parsons High School. It was voted to sell both non-interest bearing bonds and bonds bearing three percent interest. Each bond will be valued at $25 and will mature in ten years or less if possible.

Harner appointed a committee to make sale of bonds. The committee to contact business establishments and industries are J. Kenton Lambert, J. M. Ours, J. Harold Felton, Darl Stalnaker, Joseph Gilmore, Robert W. Minear; Theodore T. Dorman and Harry Miller.

The women's clubs of Parsons will be asked to contact Parsons High School alumni for donations and purchase of bonds.

Parsons will be divided into sections for the sale of bonds. The committee named for this work are Mr. and Mrs. R. K. McClain, Mrs. George Bowley, Robert Sullivan, Darl Stalnaker and W. Del Roy Harner.

The new organization will apply immediately for a charter. Harner expressed the belief that it would be possible to complete the lighting of the field in time for a part of the home games this season if the project is supported by enough people in the community.

Harner To Head Parsons School Lighting Group

New Unit Will Sell Bonds For Equipment

PARSONS — The newly organized Parsons High School Lighting Association has named Del Roy Harner as its president. Harner is also president of the Parsons Kiwanis Club.

Other officers approved by the Tucker County Board of Education are M. M. Freeman, principal, vice president; Mrs. Paul Flanagan, of the All Letter Club Auxiliary, secretary, and Robert O. Shrout, of the Chamber of Commerce, treasurer.

Other members of the nine-member committee, which will apply for a charter, are Jason Wolford, county superintendent of schools; Dr. Guy H. Michael, Sr. and Darl Stalnaker, members of the Board of Education; C. Robert Sullivan, coach of the school, and R. K. McClain, representing the River City Club.

The organization was formed as a non-profit unit to secure lights for the athletic field of Parsons High School. It was voted to sell both non-interest bearing bonds and bonds bearing three percent interest. Each bond will be valued at $25 and will mature in ten years or less if possible.

Harner appointed a committee to make sale of bonds. The committee to contact business establishments and industries are J. Kenton Lambert, J. M. Ours, J. Harold Felton, Darl Stalnaker, Joseph Gilmore, Robert W. Minear; Theodore T. Dorman and Harry Miller.

The women's clubs of Parsons will be asked to contact Parsons High School alumni for donations and purchase of bonds.

Parsons will be divided into sections for the sale of bonds. The committee named for this work are Mr. and Mrs. R. K. McClain, Mrs. George Bowley, Robert Sullivan, Darl Stalnaker and W. Del Roy Harner.

The new organization will apply immediately for a charter. Harner expressed the belief that it would be possible to complete the lighting of the field in time for a part of the home games this season if the project is supported by enough people in the community.

Miss Paugh will be crowned Queen Rachel VI on Friday, August 14 in a ceremony at the Thomas Playground at 2 p.m. by John DePollo of Thomas.

Following the coronation there will be a pageant, "The Gypsy Carnival", after which the public will be invited to a tea honoring the Queen and her court at the Thomas City Hall.

Former queens of the Homecoming have been Miss Charmaine Barnes, Miss Martha Rae Pase, Miss Mary Alice Lambert, Miss Janet Ansel, and Miss Joan Shrader.

The celebration will be held for three days, opening on Thursday, August 13, at 1 p.m. with a concert by the Davis-Thomas Band at the bandstand. The Kiddie Parade will follow at 1:30 p.m., sponsored by the Altar Society of St. Thomas Church.

At 3 p.m. the field day events will start at the Thomas Playground. A talent show will be featured at the bandstand that evening at 6:30, sponsored by the Wesleyan Service Guild of Thomas Methodist Church.

The day's event will close with a polka dance at the Thomas Gymnasium starting at 9 p.m.

Friday, August 14, the day will be officially opened with the coronation of the Queen followed by the pageant and the Queen's tea at 4 p. m. The Davis-Thomas band will present a concert at 6:30 p.m. at the bandstand and a magic show will be held at 8 p.m. in the Thomas gymnasium, where a square dance will follow at 9 p.m.

Saturday, August 15 at 4:30 p.m. the Parsons band directed by Louis T. Michael will present a concert. At 6:30 p.m. the Fireman's Parade will be held in Thomas with refreshments served to parade participants at the City Hall immediately following the parade.

At 7:30 p.m. the Fireman's District convention will be held in the City Hall. The Queen's Ball will be held in the Thomas gymnasium Saturday evening at 9.

The Band Mothers Club will have charge of the hot dog stands; the Ladies Auxiliary of the Thomas Volunteer Fire Department, the fish pond; the Methodist Youth Fellowship will have the miscellaneous sales; the Presbyterian Ladies, the bake sale; the Catholic War Veteran, games, and the Presbyterian Ladies will also have the registration booth.

Frostburg Police Open Campaign On Loitering

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Police Force has been instructed by Police Commissioner Perry W. Myers to enforce City Ordinance No. 126, prohibiting loafing and loitering in doorways.

This offense is being committed mostly at night, according to police, and Sergeant Lloyd Truly stated that the police will welcome information at any time from any section of the town where residents are being annoyed by doorway loitering and loafing.

Head Nurse At Hospital Resigns

KEYSER — Miss Christine Murray, daughter of Mrs. William Murray, C Street, and the late William Murray, has tendered her resignation as head nurse at Potomac Valley Hospital effective August 15. She has been affiliated with the hospital for the past four years.

Miss Murray is a graduate of Keyser High School and of the School of Nursing of Franklin Square Hospital, Baltimore.

Oldest Crop Duster Killed In Crash

A native of nearby Bedford Valley, Pa., who was believed to be the oldest crop-dusting pilot in the nation, was instantly killed Tuesday when he crashed a plane at Cleveland, Miss.

The victim of the crash, Henry E. Elliott, 71, was a son of the late F. M. and Ellen (Sliger) Elliott of Bedford Valley.

Active in aeronautics since the first World War, in which he served as a lieutenant in the Air Force, Mr. Elliott had operated his own crop dusting company in both Mexico and South America.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Clara (Whitten) Elliott; a son, Henry E. Elliott Jr., and a daughter, Miss Pearl Elliott, both at home; five brothers, Fred Elliott, Los Angeles, and Hammick, Harrison, Earl and F. M. Elliott Jr., all of Bedford Valley, and two sisters, Mrs. Blanch Sommerlatt, Bedford Valley, and Mrs. Margaret Oster, Ridgefield, Wash.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5 (INS)—So many actors have been rumored for the lead opposite Judy Garland in "A Star Is Born," that I almost feel I shouldn't mention another until I see a contract signed, sealed and delivered.

However, the Victor Mature deal is so near closing that I'm going to say that unless some last minute happening changes the plans again, Vic will play opposite Judy and the picture will get going this fall.

Cary Grant was rumored for Judy's co-star, but something went wrong—just what, I don't know.

Judy, I hear, is feeling much better and playing golf to get the weight down.

Rotund Burl Ives gets the break of his life in John Huston's next picture, which will be shot in County Mayo, Ireland. The picture, yet unnamed, is the story of a wandering blind minstrel in the early 18th century.

Ives, who has been touring in the provinces, stopped in at a London nursing home to see his old friend, Huston, who was laid up following a spill from his horse.

John has been planning to do the minstrel story in Ireland for a long time and looking at Burl, he felt he had his actor—and, best of all, Burl won't have to diet for the part.

So long since we heard anything about Ginger Rogers' bridegroom, Jacques Bergerac, playing a picture, that I assumed the idea had been dropped. Not at all.

Jacques' option isn't up until September and he's now working with Lillian Burns, who considers him very promising.

He has yet to make even a test because he's spent all of his time learning English, and it is impossible for him to make any pictures until he can talk better. However, it doesn't seem likely, if MGM plans to drop him next month, they would be wasting Lillian's valuable time.

Over the transatlantic telephone, Anne Baxter said that she had moved into the Greater Foster Hotel in London to be with Charles Laughton. That's because they are rehearsing Anne's role in "John Brown's Body."

Anne, as I told you a long time ago, takes Judith Anderson's place in the Paul Gregory production which opens September 19 in Santa Barbara for a tryout and then comes to Los Angeles.

Anne, herself, returns on August 17. She says she'll be glad to be dry—it rained all the time she was in Germany.

One of Marlene Dietrich's close friends heard from her from Tel Aviv saying that she and her daughter, Maria Riva, are stranded there.

Seems Marlene, who is signed to do 39 TV series, was in Tel Aviv for the first film. Now the outfit has apparently run out of money and poor Marlene can't get home—that is, unless she wants to use her own cash. She seems to think the money will be forthcoming later. Maybe she's an optimist.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Lauren Bacall is writing an article on the world's ten most interesting men—and not one of them listed is an actor. I'll bet Adlai Stevenson heads the list.

Mitzi Green, not so long ago a child star and now a night club singer and comedienne, expects her fourth child in December—maybe for Christmas. In private life Mitzi is married to U-I Director Joe Pevney.

This is a surprise! From England comes word that Tennis Champ Fred Perry is marrying Barbara Friedman, sister of Actress Patricia Roc. I hadn't heard that Fred and Lorraine Walsh had separated.

The Herman Hover baby has been named Ellen Jane, and Herman says she is as pretty as her beautiful mother, Yvonne.

At Walter Winchell's table at the Mocambo following the baseball game for the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, was George Jessel, and with George was Abigail Adams! Is that on again?

Guy Madison has a new horse, and to juvenile fans this is big news. The horse's name is Penny, and he's a thoroughbred, but of course.

Alan Ladd takes the big jump to London from Lake Louise for the premier of "The Big Jump," his paratrooper film.

Happy birthday to Lucille Ball and Louis K. Sidney, MGM executive. Both are happy Leos.

When Doris Day's son, Terry, was being taught the proper way to ask a girl for a dance he said, "Yeh—but how do you get rid of her?"

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

PUT IN RIGHT PLACE

THERE are contracts which can be made if one member of the pair is declarer, but not if his partner is. That is most interestingly so in many No Trump enterprises. It applies strikingly to deals on which one member of the pair has an ace at the top of a particular suit and his partner the queen, a situation not so well understood by most players as those in which the side's sole stopper is a guarded king. Anybody knows that it is well to have the first lead come up to a king instead of through it, but many fail to realize how the same principle works regarding a lead through a queen up to an ace, as compared with a lead through the ace up to the queen.

West's hand was so weak that he decided he had better try to hit his partner's suit, so selected the heart 9 as the most likely. That ruined South. Whether or not he used the Q at once made no difference. Actually he held up and let West win. Though East's card on the trick was the low 4, West could see that was for the purpose of avoiding being in the lead, so repeated the suit, the Q, K and A playing.

South tried for a division of clubs after running his diamonds, but was chagrined when West discarded on the third round. He had no way then to avoid defeat.

Notice that, with South as declarer, there was only one stopper of the hearts, if led at the outset. If South, however, had been declarer, the suit would have been stopped twice, with the lead coming through the ace up to the Queen. South could have provided for that contingency by showing his strength with 3-Diamonds on his second turn. North then would have bid some number of No Trumps and the final contract with North in 6-No Trumps would have been makeable. It would have been tough if East led a minor, yet a sure thing if North played right. Can you see how?

How valuable to South is correct play likely to be if West had led the heart K against his 3-No Trumps?

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Let's see how many answers to questions can be packed into today's column. Here goes:

Q. Can a blonde wear bright red? A. Certainly! But be choosy about what red. If your skin has an underlying blue tone, choose a blue red; if your underlying skin tone is ochre, choose an orange-red. In either case you can find bright shades. Take care, though, that your costume and grooming add up to a neat perfection. A blonde in red makes an eye-catching target!

Q. What is the prevention and cure of freckles? A. The prevention lies in staying out of the sun, wearing a hat, gloves and cover-up costume and copious sun-screening lotion when you must be in the sun. Freckles can be removed by an expert plastic surgeon. But why remove them? They add piquant charm, a sunny color to your complexion and the look of youth as long as you have them!

Q. Can oily skin and problem pores be remedied? A. Avoid such foods as chocolate, nuts, sharp cheese, shellfish, salt water fish, fats and sweets. Wash your face three to six times a day with hot water and a non-fatted or sulfur soap. At your cosmetic counter, ask for an oily-skin, pore-shrinking mask and use it according to directions.

Q. What can be done for oily hair? A. See answer above as to what foods to avoid. Ask your doctor for a scalp-treatment lotion or ointment. Shampoo your hair two or three times a week with a green or tar soap until the condition is under control.

Q. My little girl has some superfluous hair that darkens in the summer. What can I do about it? A. Make a solution using eight teaspoonsful of bleaching peroxide of hydrogen to one-half teaspoonful of household ammonia and apply evenly and thoroughly where needed. When the hair has bleached, rinse with lemon or vinegar.

Next question?

Address your queries to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and your answer will appear in this column shortly.

West's hand was so weak that he decided he had better try to hit his partner's suit, so selected the heart 9 as the most likely. That ruined South. Whether or not he used the Q at once made no difference. Actually he held up and let West win. Though East's card on the trick was the low 4, West could see that was for the purpose of avoiding being in the lead, so repeated the suit, the Q, K and A playing.

South tried for a division of clubs after running his diamonds, but was chagrined when West discarded on the third round. He had no way then to avoid defeat.

Notice that, with South as declarer, there was only one stopper of the hearts, if led at the outset. If South, however, had been declarer, the suit would have been stopped twice, with the lead coming through the ace up to the Queen. South could have provided for that contingency by showing his strength with 3-Diamonds on his second turn. North then would have bid some number of No Trumps and the final contract with North in 6-No Trumps would have been makeable. It would have been tough if East led a minor, yet a sure thing if North played right. Can you see how?

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ K 9 3 ♥ 8 4 2 ♦ A 8 7 4 ♣ 7 5 4
♠ 10 8 6 2 ♥ K Q 10 7 6 ♦ 10 6 ♣ 8 2	N W E S	♠ Q 5 4 ♥ 9 3 ♦ Q 9 3 2 ♣ K 10 6 3
	♠ A J 7 ♥ A J 5 ♦ K J 5 ♣ A Q J 9

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

How valuable to South is correct play likely to be if West had led the heart K against his 3-No Trumps?

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Let's see how many answers to questions can be packed into today's column. Here goes:

Q. Can a blonde wear bright red? A. Certainly! But be choosy about what red. If your skin has an underlying blue tone, choose a blue red; if your underlying skin tone is ochre, choose an orange-red. In either case you can find bright shades. Take care, though, that your costume and grooming add up to a neat perfection. A blonde in red makes an eye-catching target!

Q. What is the prevention and cure of freckles? A. The prevention lies in staying out of the sun, wearing a hat, gloves and cover-up costume and copious sunscreening lotion when you must be in the sun. Freckles can be removed by an expert plastic surgeon. But why remove them? They add piquant charm, a sunny color to your complexion and the look of youth as long as you have them!

Q. Can oily skin and problem pores be remedied? A. Avoid such foods as chocolate, nuts, sharp cheese, shellfish, salt water fish, fats and sweets. Wash your face three to six times a day with hot water and a non-fatted or sulfur soap. At your cosmetic counter, ask for an oily-skin, pore-shrinking mask and use it according to directions.

Q. What can be done for oily hair? A. See answer above as to what foods to avoid. Ask your doctor for a scalp-treatment lotion or ointment. Shampoo your hair two or three times a week with a green or tar soap until the condition is under control.

Q. My little girl has some superfluous hair that darkens in the summer. What can I do about it? A. Make a solution using eight teaspoonsful of bleaching peroxide of hydrogen to one-half teaspoonful of household ammonia and apply evenly and thoroughly where needed. When the hair has bleached, rinse with lemon or vinegar.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

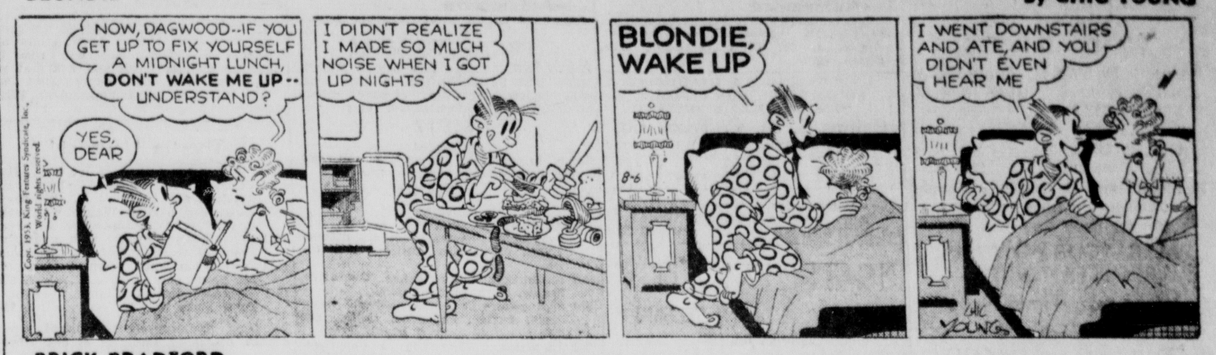

A Cryptogram Quotation

R U A L - A I V L V T D R L D O R I O V Z T M L U S L K Z U A R U A L — R U U V.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: DECISION BY MAJORITIES IS AS MUCH AN EXPEDIENT AS LIGHTING BY GAS—GLADSTONE.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

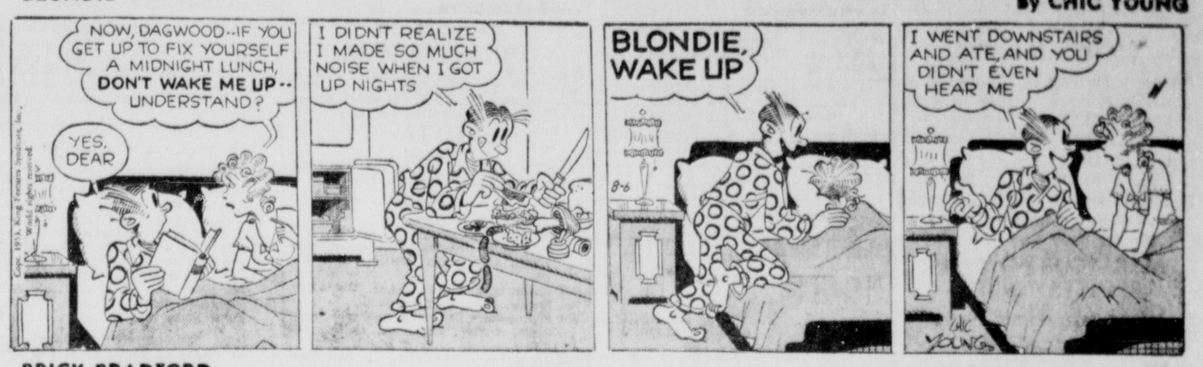

A Cryptogram Quotation

R U A L - A I V L V T D R L E O R I O V Z T M L U S L K Z U A R U A L — R U U V.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: DECISION BY MAJORITIES IS AS MUCH AN EXPEDIENT AS LIGHTING BY GAS—GLADSTONE.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Russell H. McCain, chairman, Avery W. Hall and David M. Nichols, constituting the State Roads Commission of Maryland, acting for and on behalf of the State of Maryland, vs. Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife. No. 63 Trials July Term, 1953. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County.

PETITION NO. ——

The object of this suit is to acquire by condemnation certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, Maryland, belonging to Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife.

The Petition states that the Petitioners constitute the State Roads Commission of Maryland and are charged with the construction and maintenance of highways and bridges in the State of Maryland.

That they have determined it to be necessary and proper to acquire for the purposes referred to in said petition, and in connection with the construction and maintenance of the highway system of the State, certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, Maryland, being and comprising all the land in Allegany County, consisting of 4,000 square feet, more or less, lying between the lines marked "Right of Way Line" as shown on Plat No. 10885, which is being taken in fee simple.

The petition further states that the property is now held under the provisions of a deed from Mildred K. Fritz and Alfred W. Fritz, her husband, to Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife, dated January 5, 1948, and recorded on July 12, 1948, in Liber No. 221, Folio 289, among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

That the land and property is sought to be condemned in connection with the State System of Roads and Bridges, and especially for the construction of the Maryland Route No. 53 (Winchester Road) from U. S. Route No. 40 to Cresaptown project, in Allegany County, Maryland.

That the Petitioners are unable to make an agreement with the defendants and that the Petitioners have deposited a check in the amount of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) in the hands of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in conformity with the provisions of Article 89B, Section 9, Public General Laws of Maryland, said petitioners deeming the said sum to be the fair value of the land taken and damage done to the property and that it is in the public interest for them to take possession immediately upon depositing said money and that they are taking possession for the aforesaid purposes.

That the defendants, Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife, are non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing at 401 Pennsylvania Avenue, East Warren, Pennsylvania.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife, who reside at 401 Pennsylvania Avenue, East Warren, Pennsylvania, owners of the above described property, to appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of August, 1953, and show cause, if any they have, why said property or said defendants' interest therein, should not be condemned as prayed in said petition.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Russell H. McCain, chairman, Avery W. Hall and David M. Nichols, constituting the State Roads Commission of Maryland, acting for and on behalf of the State of Maryland, vs. Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife. No. 63 Trials July Term, 1953. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County.

PETITION NO. ——

The object of this suit is to acquire by condemnation certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, Maryland, belonging to Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife.

The Petition states that the Petitioners constitute the State Roads Commission of Maryland and are charged with the construction and maintenance of highways and bridges in the State of Maryland.

That they have determined it to be necessary and proper to acquire for the purposes referred to in said petition, and in connection with the construction and maintenance of the highway system of the State, certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, Maryland, being and comprising all the land in Allegany County, consisting of 4,000 square feet, more or less, lying between the lines marked "Right of Way Line" as shown on Plat No. 10885, which is being taken in fee simple.

The petition further states that the property is now held under the provisions of a deed from Mildred K. Fritz and Alfred W. Fritz, her husband, to Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife, dated January 5, 1948, and recorded on July 12, 1948, in Liber No. 221, Folio 289, among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

That the land and property is sought to be condemned in connection with the State System of Roads and Bridges, and especially for the construction of the Maryland Route No. 53 (Winchester Road) from U. S. Route No. 40 to Cresaptown project, in Allegany County, Maryland.

That the Petitioners are unable to make an agreement with the defendants and that the Petitioners have deposited a check in the amount of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) in the hands of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in conformity with the provisions of Article 89B, Section 9, Public General Laws of Maryland, said petitioners deeming the said sum to be the fair value of the land taken and damage done to the property and that it is in the public interest for them to take possession immediately upon depositing said money and that they are taking possession for the aforesaid purposes.

That the defendants, Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife, are non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing at 401 Pennsylvania Avenue, East Warren, Pennsylvania.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife, who reside at 401 Pennsylvania Avenue, East Warren, Pennsylvania, owners of the above described property, to appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of August, 1953, and show cause, if any they have, why said property or said defendants' interest therein, should not be condemned as prayed in said petition.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Russell H. McCain, chairman, Avery W. Hall and David M. Nichols, constituting the State Roads Commission of Maryland, acting for and on behalf of the State of Maryland, vs. Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife. No. 63 Trials July Term, 1953. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County.

PETITION NO. ——

The object of this suit is to acquire by condemnation certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, Maryland, belonging to Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife.

The Petition states that the Petitioners constitute the State Roads Commission of Maryland and are charged with the construction and maintenance of highways and bridges in the State of Maryland.

That they have determined it to be necessary and proper to acquire for the purposes referred to in said petition, and in connection with the construction and maintenance of the highway system of the State, certain tracts or parcels of land situate in the Twenty-ninth Election District of Allegany County, Maryland, being and comprising all the land in Allegany County, consisting of 4,000 square feet, more or less, lying btween the lines marked "Right of Way Line" as shown on Plat No. 10885, which is being taken in fee simple.

The petition further states that the property is now held under the provisions of a deed from Mildred K. Fritz and Alfred W. Fritz, her husband, to Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife, dated January 5, 1948, and recorded on July 12, 1948, in Liber No. 221, Folio 289, among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

That the land and property is sought to be condemned in connection with the State System of Roads and Bridges, and especially for the construction of the Maryland Route No. 53 (Winchester Road) from U. S. Route No. 40 to Cresaptown project, in Allegany County, Maryland.

That the Petitioners are unable to make an agreement with the defendants and that the Petitioners have deposited a check in the amount of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) in the hands of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in conformity with the provisions of Article 89B, Section 9, Public General Laws of Maryland, said petitioners deeming the said sum to be the fair value of the land taken and damage done to the property and that it is in the public interest for them to take possession immediately upon depositing said money and that they are taking possession for the aforesaid purposes.

That the defendants, Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife, are non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing at 401 Pennsylvania Avenue, East Warren, Pennsylvania.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to Creswell O. Halle and Evelyn C. Halle, his wife, who reside at 401 Pennsylvania Avenue, East Warren, Pennsylvania, owners of the above described property, to appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of August, 1953, and show cause, if any they have, why said property or said defendants' interest therein, should not be condemned as prayed in said petition.

JOSEPH E. BODEN,
Clerk of the Circuit Court for Allegany County.

Industrial Promotion Work Shows Progress

Area Called To Attention Of 4,500 Companies

During the first nine months of operation, the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Promotion Department has created $110,800 in new annual payrolls and has 10 outside firms studying this area with a possibility of locating here.

According to a report released yesterday by Albert H. Hargreaves, director of industrial promotion, $90,000 in annual permanent payrolls was created with the location of the Airtronic Research firm of Bethesda and $20,800 in payrolls was established from local business assistance or expansion on new business. This included expansion work at the American Pallet Company, at Ellerslie.

Firms Study Cumberland

In the first nine months, Hargreaves contacted more than 4,500 officers of corporations and made personal visits to more than 150 companies in nearly 40 cities.

Hargreaves' tedious efforts resulted in 10 known companies studying Cumberland. They include three chemical firms with an estimated employment of 303; two metal working companies with an estimated 1,313 persons employed; a glass company with 350 employment; an electronics company with 1,500 jobs; a paper firm with 150 employment; a fabrics film with 150 employment and another company with 350 employment.

These companies are only at present studying facilities here, but may be possibilities of new local industries. Many other companies contacted by Hargreaves have considered Cumberland as a location for a branch plant or an industry; some have moved to other locations while others are still considering.

Here are some of the efforts and many problems faced by the department.

Progress Outlined

The first three weeks after Hargreaves reported here as director, were spent in organizational work, and an office was occupied by the unit on December 1, 1952. During the initial stages Hargreaves worked closely with the Baltimore Association of Commerce and established liason and working arrangements with industrial representatives of the railroads as well as the gas and electric companies.

Early in November, the first few leads were obtained and were followed-up without success, but one company contacted has not yet made its decision. The Grinnel Corporation was among those that were looking for manufacturing facilities. Officials required a specialized type of building with 35-feet headroom and overhead cranes, and investigated Cumberland believing there may be some railroad facilities unused that could meet their requirements.

A Baltimore firm, United Truck and Equipment Company, investigated the possibility of a branch plane operation here, but later decided the Baltimore plant was sufficient. In December Hargreaves contacted Olin Industries and carried the project for several months, but the firm did not select Cumberland.

In the middle of December, the Industrial Promotion Department furnished a management consulting company in New York with data on Cumberland and made a personal visit to discuss the possibility of a Trenton, N J. firm locating here. The company has not given up the idea of a new location, but due to the fact that it reached a peak production sooner than expected, it was unable to contemplate a new location until later.

Follows Leads

Hargreaves at the same time was contacting other firms, following leads obtained locally and from other sources. Also in December Hargreaves began his direct mail program using leads obtained from financial papers and columns.

Then immediately after the first of the year, the department's program of direct calls began where companies were visited without knowledge that they were contemplating expansion. Negotiations began with a company that is now completing its industrial engineering study of Cumberland and competitive areas. The electronics firm has advised Hargreaves it will give its decision this month.

Local Man Jailed On Year-Old Parole Charge

A Cumberland man was returned to West Virginia yesterday to face a charge of violating a parole which expired a year ago.

Charles Swandol, of Laing Avenue, was arrested here Tuesday and was lodged in County Jail. West Virginia State Police Trooper W. F. Bowley picked him up yesterday and took him to Keyser, where he was to be held for action of the October grand jury in Mineral County.

Police said Swandol, who was placed on four-year probation in 1948 when he pleaded guilty to an assault charge, had since served two sentences in Maryland. A warrant for his arrest on the parole violation charge was issued before the probation period expired last year, but he was not picked up until this week.

Westernport Target Area

The business district of Westernport was the target last night for a practice alert conducted by seven area volunteer fire companies.

The alarm, according to David Kirk, of Barton, coordinator for the Tri-Towns section of the Fire Branch of the Allegany County Civil Defense Program, was sounded at 7:05 p. m.

About 45 volunteer firemen and seven trucks converged on the business district from McCoole, Barton, Piedmont, Luke, Bloomington, Beryl, and Westernport.

An eighth volunteer company, Keyser, was alerted and stood by. The all clear signal came at 7:35, Kirk noted and the practice was termed successful.

Among the fire branch officials at the scene was Joseph Weinrich, of Cresaptown.

Church Service Time Changed

Changes for the time of services of the Bedford Methodist Circuit this Sunday only were announced yesterday by Rev. Paul D. Woodbury Jr., pastor.

The change is being made to allow Mineral Springs to have the evening worship service as the beginning of their revival planned next week. At Bethel Church, worship will be at 9 a.m. with church school following; Centerville Church, worship at 10 a.m. and church school at 9 a.m.; Rainsburg Cove, worship at 11:15 a.m. and at Mineral Springs, church school at 10 a.m. with the revival beginning at 8 p.m.

Miss Tipton Will Do Missionary Work

Marilyn Tipton, city, is among 34 young college graduates who will go to foreign countries this fall for three years of missionary service under sponsorship of the Methodist Church.

She will travel to Latin America. The graduates will assist in educational and social service projects in that country, Southeast Asia, Korea and Japan. They will complete six-weeks of orientation at Hartford, Conn., on August 8 and will spend a few days in New York City for a visit to the UN headquarters and other places of interest.

Messmer Assigned To Philippines

Airman 1C Kenneth W. Messmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Messmer, city, recently arrived in the Philippines to serve a tour of duty with the U. S. Air Force.

He is assigned to the 24th Aircraft Equipment Repair Squadron, Headquarters, 24th Air Depot Wing at Clark AF Base, 60 miles north of Manila. He enlisted in March 1951 and this is his first overseas assignment. A graduate of Allegany High School, he was formerly employed by Montgomery Ward Company.

The Weather

Yesterday's alternately murky and sunny skies kept Cumberlanders guessing as to whether umbrellas would be in order, but two things were fairly uniform — the heat and the humidity. Official high was 90, the low, 71, and humidity at 6 p. m., 65 per cent. Today is to be partly cloudy and — perhaps — cooler, with possible overnight thundershowers. An early morning shower yesterday brought forth only .05 of an inch of rain.

FREDERICK H. SHEELEY

Sheeley Named Visiting Teacher To Co. Schools

Was Principal At McCoole

A Lonaconing resident, Frederick H. Sheeley, has been named visiting teacher to four schools in Allegany County.

He has been principal of McCoole School since 1948. Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel of the county schools yesterday said that Sheeley will visit schools in Lonaconing, Barton, Westernport and McCoole.

His duties, Higgins noted, consist of working with boys and girls who have problems at school or at home. He acts as a counselor and does liaison work with pupils between the classroom and the home.

Sheeley began his teaching career in Allegany County when he accepted a position at Cresaptown in 1946. He spent one and a half years teaching in that community.

A graduate of Williamsport High School in 1938, he received his B.S. degree in 1942 from Frostburg State Teachers College.

Following graduation he entered the U. S. Navy where he became a qualified pilot and plane commander. While in the service he piloted a transport in the Pacific area and held the rank of lieutenant, senior grade.

He is now on inactive duty with the Navy. Sheeley did practice teaching while at Frostburg and was also a primary flight instructor in the service.

In 1951 he received his Master's Degree in Education at the University of Maryland and this summer attended a six weeks course at the University.

He is married to the former Miss Leah Stakem, of Lonaconing, and is the father of two children, Freddie, five and Carolyn, four. A member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Lonaconing, he also belongs to Alvin C. Neat Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, James P. Love Post, American Legion, and the Rotary Club of that community.

His office will be located in Valley High School.

News In Brief

City police have issued 1,160 new bicycle license plates since July 1, according to Mrs. Carolyn Welsh, stenographer.

Wage talks between Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America (CIO), and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company are continuing.

The Ketterman reunion will be held Saturday at the home of Frank Ketterman.

Derby Drivers Given Awards At JC Dinner

George Day Leaves For Akron Contest

Thirty-seven of the 39 boys who competed in the annual Soap Box Derby here July 11 were entertained and given awards last night at a dinner meeting of the Junior Association of Commerce at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Frederic C. Eiler, of Eiler Chevrolet Inc., presented awards to the boys. Not present were George Day, 15-year-old Cumberland winner of the local derby who left for Akron to compete in the All-American Soap Box Derby, and Cecil Warnick, Potomac Park, who is in a Baltimore hospital.

Metz Wins Bike

Day is the winner of the coveted trip and a chance at a $5,000 college scholarship, and Warnick was to be awarded gloves for being a heat winner.

Top prize last night was awarded to 12-year-old Robert Metz of Westernport who received a bicycle for being runnerup. The Shell Oil Company tool board for the best constructed car went to Larry Morris of Cumberland, while Collins and Aikman electric tool went to Allen Haines, Potomac Park.

Patrick Roland, Flintstone, who set a course record on Pennsylvania Avenue with a time of 28 2-25 seconds in defeating Lonaconing's Bobby Brode, received a pen and pencil set for the Derby's fastest time.

The official awarding of the city championship and Jaycee trophies, along with other prizes to be awarded Day, will be made at the September dinner of the Jaycees when Day will be a guest.

All prizes with the exception of the Jaycee trophy and special awards are given by Eiler Chevrolet.

Other Winners

Contestants receiving gloves last night for being heat winners were James McDonald, William J. Smith, James Hoyman, Gary Butts, Floyd Grimm, Robert Judy and Donald Fishell, Cumberland; Patrick Roland, Flintstone; Keith Morris and Lloyd Robertson, Lonaconing; Joseph Winters, Cresaptown; Alvin Rhodes, Edward Rhodes and Robert Metz, Westernport; Douglas Rannells and Norman McDonald, Romney, and James Mellon, McCoole.

Awarded official American League baseballs were Stanley Abramson, Ricky Westerfeld, Calvin Jones, Larry Morris, Harold Hawkins, Eugene Kerr, Richard McDonald and John Wilson, Cumberland; Lester Reiber, Bobby Smith, Jimmy Mills, Water McKenzie, Robert Brode, Ronald Pase, Leo Carter and James Dick, Lonaconing; Allen Haines and Ronald Dick, Potomac Park; Ronald Riggs, Ridgeley, and Harold Rhodes, Westernport.

A feature of last night's dinner was a showing of the color movies taken of this year's Soap Box event.

Six Area Young Men Join Armed Forces

Six area men were enlisted in the armed forces this week according to SFC Donald S. Barron, recruiter here.

Enlisted in the U. S. Army for three years were George H. Shaffer, Petersburg, W. Va.; George L. Boit, Spring Gap, and James E. Niner, RFD 1, Cumberland. They were sent to Fort Knox, Ky. for basic training.

Three area young men enlisted in the U. S. Air Force for four years. They include Daniel H. Kean, Rose Hill Avenue; David D. Herboldsheimer, this city, and James W. Chenowith, this city. They were dispatched to Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y., for basic training.

Motor Overheats

Central firemen were called to the Wolfe Meat Market, 105 North Centre Street, at 7:25 p. m. yesterday when an electric motor overheated and filled the basement with smoke. There was no damage.

NOT BOMBS, WATER — The devastation wrought by tons of water which rushed out of a broken main at Baltimore Avenue and Decatur Street early yesterday is shown in the top photo, where part of the crater dug by the water can be seen. Spectators in background stand on a temporary boardwalk which was erected to replace the sidewalk in front of Engle's Grocery after the pavement fell into the hole. Chunks of sanitary sewer line can be seen in the center of the photo, and hastily patched lines are visible in the foreground. Workmen still had not reached the bottom of the hole through the rubble last night. (Note broken section of curbing in hole at lower right). The center photo shows water gushing from the hole just before it was shut off. In bottom photo, two motorists find themselves in a predicament that was far from unusual while the flood was going on. The car was stranded at the intersection of Glenn Street and Henderson Avenue when its engine drowned. Later, police blocked off the flooded section of the street.

Work On Broken Water Main Will Resume Today

Crews Still Digging For Damaged Pipe

City workmen today will probe into the floor of a gaping crater at Baltimore Avenue and Decatur Street, where a 24-inch water main burst early yesterday and poured half a million gallons of water into the downtown section.

Exhausted after a night-long battle to stem the flood and restore water service to the affected areas, workmen postponed further work until this morning.

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards said his men had not yet reached the damaged section of water line, which lies some nine or ten feet below the surface.

Three Lines Damaged

When the big line blew out at about 12:10 a.m., it took with it a section of eight-inch service line, part of a sanitary sewer, and several tons of paving material and earth above it.

The flood crossed the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks and covered Baltimore Street to curb level and higher almost as far down as Mechanic Street. Tons of silt, bricks and some sewage were strewn over the streets.

Commissioner Edwards said all water service was back to normal yesterday morning, after service lines were bypassed. Water pressure in some parts of North End was a bit low.

No estimate of damage to the lines will be possible, Edwards said, until workmen have uncovered the section of 24-inch line which went bad. At present, they don't know whether a whole section of the cast iron pipe blew out, or whether a joint merely gave way.

Basements Flooded

So far, the commissioner said, none of the lines has been permanently repaired, although the gap in the sewer line has been bridged with a wooden trough and the eight-inch service line has been temporarily cased.

Basements of nearly every one of 26 buildings on Glenn Street were flooded and sidewalks were torn up in six places as the main force of the torrent rushed downhill to Henderson Avenue, where it flowed onto the B&O tracks and

Shoppers May Drive Into Flooded Area

City officials last night said vehicular traffic bound for business places in the area affected by a break in a city water main will be permitted to enter the area beginning today.

The street has been roped off to through traffic since the pipe broke early yesterday.

All business places in the area are open for business, although most suffered considerable damage when their basements were flooded.

256 Pints Of Blood Donated During August Visit Of Unit

The Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, collected a total of 256 productive pints of blood during the August visit of the Johnstown (Pa.) Regional Headquarters Bloodmobile unit this week.

Ninety-five pints were donated Tuesday when the unit was at the home of Victory Post 155, American Legion, Westernport. There were 121 persons who reported to donate blood, but 25 of them were rejected because of colds.

Dr. Paul R. Wilson and Dr. Robert W. Bess were the physicians who volunteered for the visit, and hostesses were Mrs. Margaret Daniels, Mrs. Fay Berry, Mrs. Alvina Hitt, Mrs. Maxine Prado, Mrs. Irma Zeitlin, Mrs. Doris Bantz, Mrs. Phyllis Deymour and Mrs. Doris Boal Mitchell.

During Monday's visit in Cumberland 161 usable pints of blood were collected at the FOE headquarters on North Mechanic Street.

During the Cumberland visit four persons became members of the Red Cross "Gallon Club" after donating their eighth pint Monday.

The quota for the two days was 300 pints.

PE Installs New Equipment At Area Substation

A new 30,000 kva transformer with allied equipment has been placed into service by the Potomac Edison Company at the new Ridgeley substation.

This transformer will supplement the present bank at the Cumberland River Plant so that a total of 60,000 kva of capacity can be brought into the Cumberland area.

This reinforces the entire Cumberland 30,000 volt network. The new installation provides facilities to serve two of the Celanese feeders and a tie line to the Cumberland River Plant.

The cost of the new equipment at the Ridgeley substation will go over the $200,000 mark, officials noted. The Ridgeley substation, located across the river from the Cumberland Plant, serves as a sub-dispatching center for the PE system's western areas.

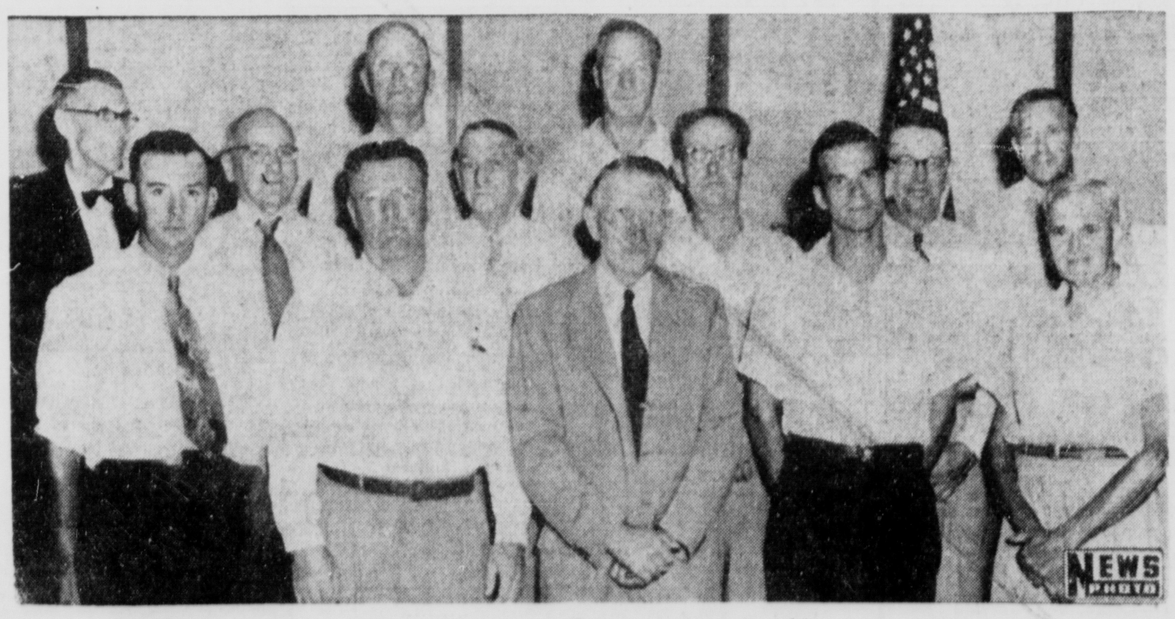

It was placed in service in the fall of 1952 prior to the placing in service of Albright's PE unit. Future plans call for the enlarging of the Ridgeley substation facilities so that new 33,000 volt lines may be added to serve Cumberland's Thomas Street substation and the Flintstone section.

Power from the Albright Station may now be sent at 132,000 volts from Ridgeley to key distribution points at Riverton, the Cumberland Plant, and in the future, Marlowe, thus providing a more reliable and stronger power supply for many PE customers.
